

Pope Returns to Rome After Plea for Peace

World Weighs Words Of Pontiff Before U.N. In History-Making Trip

BY GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With a "God bless you all!" Pope Paul VI today returned to his "spiritual city" at the end of his history-making bid for peace in the "terrestrial city" of men and their governments.

"We shall never forget this extraordinary hour," he said in farewell. An estimated 3.8 million people lined the streets.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI came home today from the papacy's first transatlantic pilgrimage, a day-long quest for world brotherhood, and vowed he would "continue to work as much as possible" for peace.

He returned to a red-carpet welcome in his see of Rome and said that his striving for world peace was "a fundamental point of our program—that is, of our ministry."

"We bless all we meet on this difficult but luminous way."

The mission that cast the papacy in a new international role seemed to have refreshed the Pope. He did not show fatigue after the lightning 30-hour journey.

BULLETIN

TOKYO (AP)—Communist Chinese air force planes shot down a U.S. fighter plane over the China mainland today, Peking Radio claimed.

The Chinese language broadcast said the plane was one of four American aircraft that intruded over the mainland. It said the intrusion was into Kwangsi Province in southeast China at 12:28 p.m.

Chinese planes intercepted the aircraft and downed the one, the broadcast said.

Viet Cong Hit U.S. Patrol in South Viet Nam

All Americans Reportedly Killed Or Hurt in Ambush

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Viet Cong force ambushed a small U.S. Army 15 miles northeast of Saigon today and killed or wounded every American, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

Another U.S. Army patrol heard the shooting and rushed to the scene but the Viet Cong had fled. Two guerrillas were reported killed.

The patrol unit that was ambushed from the 1st Infantry Division, was made up of less than 12 men, the spokesman said, but the exact number was not given.

Three other Americans were killed in air missions inside South Viet Nam, the spokesman said.

Elsewhere, two Viet Cong assaults of battalion size were reported.

Heavy losses were inflicted on government troops Monday when the Viet Cong hit a river convoy of five boats in the Mekong Delta 55 miles southwest of Saigon. The convoy drew intense small arms and automatic weapons fire from the shore and two of the boats were sunk.

The convoy was on a supply mission to a nearby post. Another guerrilla battalion attacked and overran a hamlet defended by government troops 110 miles northwest of Saigon, near the Cambodian border. The fate of the hamlet was not known.

The Communists had been operating in small units in recent weeks. A Viet Cong battalion normally numbers about 500 to 600 men.

101 Killed
Government forces claimed 101 Viet Cong killed in two other actions Monday — 70 in the southernmost province of An Xuyen and 31 bodies counted after heavy fighting near the Phu Cu Pass in Binh Dinh Province. "Heavy" government

Dixie Democrats Take Floor in Filibuster on Union Shop Ban Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democrats take over from Republicans today a filibuster aimed at killing repeal of a ban on union shops.

A veteran of several civil rights filibusters, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., will captain the Dixie forces for the day as they try to block with words Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's motion to bring the repeal bill to the floor.

The filibuster began Monday under the leadership of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, and Wednesday GOP senators will hold the fort again. For this newly forged coalition of 25 Southern and Republican senators has decided to alternate daily efforts to frustrate the White House-backed drive for passage.

Death's Ride On Highways Continues

4 More Fatalities Reported in State; Toll Hits 754

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Death continued to ride Wisconsin highways Monday with four more fatalities, reported, including two sisters, as the traffic toll for the year reached 754. On this date last year 819 fatalities had been recorded.

Mrs. Lloyd Offner and Mrs. Len Nelson, both in their 40s, sisters who resided in the Ladysmith area, were killed Monday in a Rusk County accident involving a car and two trucks. Authorities said the car in which the two women were riding entered Highway 27 three miles south of Ladysmith, collided with a gasoline tanker truck and careened into the path of a semitrailer truck carrying a bulldozer.

Monday Crash
Elmer Graw, 68, a resident of the Grant County home at Plattville, was killed Monday when he was hit by an automobile as he walked across a highway near the institution.

A diplomatic report from Singapore said three key leaders of the attempted revolt were in central Java: Col. Suherman, commander of the Diponegoro Division; Air Vice Marshal Omar Dhani, the pro-Communist head of the Air Force, and Lt. Col. Untung, leader of the coup last Thursday.

Many Surrender
Radio Jakarta claimed that many men of the Diponegoro Division had surrendered to the government forces.

Another Malaysian radio report said armed Communist units were using guerrilla tactics to harass government troops along the main roads between Jakarta, Bogor and the mountain resort of Bandung, 75 miles southeast of Jakarta.

The army's new chief, Maj. Gen. Suharto accused the Air Force of "mercilessly" killing the former army chief of staff — Lt. Gen. Achmad Yani, an anti-Communist — and five other army generals.

The mutilated bodies of the six generals were found in a common grave near an Air Force base just outside the capital.

Results of an autopsy, released today, disclosed that Merle Leidel, 74, of Green Bay had died Sunday night as the results of injuries suffered some hours before when he was struck by a car while crossing a street in downtown Breen Bay.

Rebel Resistance Reportedly Falls on Indonesian Island

Crackdown on Red Supporters Being Conducted in Jakarta

SINGAPORE (AP) — Reports from Jakarta today said organized rebel resistance in central Java appears to have collapsed.

The reports, sent through diplomatic channels, said small pockets of rebel forces were still scattered throughout the central part of Indonesia's main island but these were believed to be poorly armed and poorly led.

The diplomatic reports said an American businessman, who was not identified, drove the length of Java in the past two days and found very little fighting.

The American reportedly encountered rebel forces but found them quite friendly. He reported that many people he had spoken to in central Java were supporters of Lt. Col. Untung, the leader of the attempt last week to overthrow President Sukarno.

Radio Malaysia reported today that the army forces in control of Jakarta had begun a crackdown on Communists in the capital, arresting 200 Red supporters. Without giving the source of its report, it added that 5,000 people at a rally in Jakarta had demanded that the Indonesian Communist party be banned.

Jakarta Radio announced that Sukarno had called a meeting of his political and military high command Wednesday at his summer palace in Bogor, 40 miles south of the Indonesian capital. The meeting was expected to shed some light on the murky political situation in Indonesia.

Earlier the Malaysian government radio reported that fighting between government

Rebel Control

The Radio Malaysia report said the rebels controlled several districts, including the Jogjakarta region 250 miles southeast of Jakarta. An earlier Malaysian report said army troops had retaken Jogjakarta after Communist elements captured it.

The army high command reportedly ordered the crack Siliwangi Division into central Java to clear out the rebels. The latter's main strength seemed to come from units of the region's Diponegoro Division.

A diplomatic report from Singapore said three key leaders of the attempted revolt were in central Java: Col. Suherman, commander of the Diponegoro Division; Air Vice Marshal Omar Dhani, the pro-Communist head of the Air Force, and Lt. Col. Untung, leader of the coup last Thursday.

Highways, Recreation

Gov. Knowles Asks Okay of Broad Plan

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles today urged the swift adoption of a broad seven-point program that includes bonding proposals to accelerate highway construction and the development of state recreational land.

He told a joint session of the Legislature that of the more than 1,000 pending bills, his recommendation centered on the issues of "most vital concern" to the state.

"A brief session with positive action on the proposals will add immeasurably to the fine record that you have already established," Knowles told the lawmakers.

Highway Safety
In addition to the speedup in highway construction and recreational land acquisition, the Republican chief executive championed measures in the areas of highway safety, open housing and water pollution control.

He said he also would call a special or resumed session of the Legislature next year to push through a general streamlining of state government.

Knowles' final proposal was a "war on crime" and he said the current session should set up a task force to supply the ammunition for future legislation.

Knowles' most dramatic proposal was for a 10-year extension of the $50 million outdoor resources act which is financed by a penny-a-pack tax on cigarettes. The program, initiated by former Gov. Gaylord Nelson, is in its fifth year and has been directed almost entirely to putting suitable land into a state reserve for wildlife, sportsmen and sightseers.

Bonding Program
The governor said a portion of the tax money now being collected should be used to finance a $10 million bonding program to speed development of land already acquired. He said the act then should be extended to continue acquisition.

"Our needs have expanded far beyond those envisioned when the program was initiated with a limit of 10 years," he said. "We cannot finish the job in the five years remaining."

Knowles said the bonding program would double the present rate of developing campsites, lake beaches and docks and the state park system.

The accelerated highway construction program mentioned is already before the Assembly. Through borrowing, it would fill the gaps remaining in Wisconsin's interstate system four years ahead of schedule.

In the area of highway safety, Knowles proposed a number of extremely controversial subjects. Topping the list was a call for a statewide 21-year-old beer law that he said would eliminate the "bad mixture"

Much Speculation

White House Rumors Predict Announcement

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House newsmen were alerted today for what could be an important announcement later in the day.

With evident understatement, White House officials suggested reporters would be well-advised to be on the job. Some had planned to take the day off after returning from New York and the historic meeting of President Johnson and Pope Paul VI.

This suggestion, made to several newsmen, set the White House press corps buzzing with secret of considerable magnitude speculation about a possible major announcement.

Newsmen who asked what the subject matter could come up, House driveway Monday night of got conflicting and vague hints. No one in official capacity would say much that was revealing, Johnson's return.

India Says Pakistan Crossed Line

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India charged today that Pakistani troops had crossed the international frontier and penetrated 100 yards into Indian territory in southwest Kashmir.

Pakistani troops "intruded into one of our positions" the Defense Ministry said in a communique.

The intrusion took place in the Nawashahr region north of Sutchetgarh, the communique said. "In the Akhnur sector, Pakistani troops attempted to encroach on territory under our control but their attempt was foiled."

Will There Be Room in College for Your Child?

...Dr. Leslie J. Nason's new booklet can help immeasurably to gain and guide a successful college education.

Getting into the college these days isn't merely a matter of good grades. It involves planning, often for years in advance, choosing the right college, taking the right courses, applying the right way and at the right time, and taking tests adroitly.

Professor Nason, an old hand at advising students on such matters, as well as on getting better grades, spells it all out. He packs more practical, helpful advice into his booklet than anything we have seen. Some of his topics:

- When and how to start planning.
- Finding the right college.
- All about those college tests.
- Doing your best on entrance exams.
- College costs and how to meet them.
- Low cost education opportunities.
- Applying for college the right way.
- Making a campus visit productive.
- Advantages and disadvantages of honors courses.
- Do extra curricular activities help?
- Advance practice for college work helps in high school.
- Getting over the first hurdles in college.
- Maintaining scholastic success in college.

Legion Women Convene at Area Conference

SHIOCTON — About 250 women attended the American Legion Auxiliary area conference here Saturday.

Fred C. Heinle, Milwaukee, Legion state service officer, spoke on federal legislation affecting veterans.

Heinle said the new bill signed by President Johnson authorizing insurance for active duty service men included those in service since 1957. This means any person seeing active duty since 1957 could apply for the insurance, which costs $2 per month, Heinle said. Previous acts included service duty before 1957.

Doesn't Affect

He also discussed the new amendments to Social Security. Medicare will not affect veterans treated at VA hospitals, Heinle said.

Mrs. William Buckeridge, Oconomowoc, state president, had charge of the meeting, called to inform local units of national and state plans for the year.

State officers conducted workshops at the morning session.

Taking part were Mrs. Harriet Hass, Milwaukee, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Frank Schneider, La Crosse, rehabilitation chairman; Mrs. Arthur Wolff, Milwaukee, child welfare chairman; and Mrs. Donald Builer, Wausau, junior activities chairman.

Committee plans on the national and state level were disclosed by state chairmen: Mrs. Edward Arndt, Appleton, Americanism; Mrs. Arthur Wolff, child welfare; Mrs. John Richards, education and scholarship; Mrs. Builer, junior activities; Mrs. George Natzke, Shawano, Poppy sales; Mrs. Arthur Pruess, Hibert, publications; Mrs. Frank Schneider, rehabilitation; and Mrs. Lloyd Haberman, Brillion, legislation.

Welcoming addresses were given by Mrs. Paul Doerfler, Kimberly, ninth district president and Mrs. Milford Etheridge, Clintonville, eighth district president.

Assisting Mrs. Allen Gunderson, general chairman, were Mrs. Leroy Conradt, reservations; Mrs. Paul Winterfeldt, food; Mrs. Earl Kuether, registration; and Mrs. Elmer Warning, dining room.

Mrs. Frank Beyer and Mrs. Russell Omholt were chairman of the coffee hours.

State Programs Were discussed by members of the American Legion Auxiliary at their area conference Saturday at Shiocton. Above are Mrs.

George Natzke, Shawano; Mrs. Edward Arndt, Appleton; Mrs. Armin Tevs, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Allen Gunderson, Shiocton.

Mrs. Bytof, YMCA Auxiliary President

Mrs. Otto Bytof has been elected president of the Y and vice president: Mrs. Harold Bravick, recording secretary and Mrs. Robert Rae, treasurer.

Other new officers are Mrs. William Senecal, first vice president; Mrs. Harvey Lhost, secretary; Mrs. Louis Vanerven-hoven is advisor for the group.

Mrs. Bytof announced that committee chairmen have been selected. Mrs. William Senecal will serve as volunteer chairman. Mrs. Lhost, membership; Mrs. James Mohr, social; Mrs. Richard Dratz, public relations; Mrs. Norman Farrar, newcomers; and Mrs. Herbert Holtz, building fund.

Other Chairmen

Mrs. Keith Hardacker will serve as awards chairman;

Mrs. Walter Nissen, by-laws; Mrs. Louis Senecal, addressograph; Mrs. Ralph Schneider, nominating; and Mrs. Eugene Blystone, Women's Health Department.

Mrs. Kenneth Ligare will have charge of name tags; Mrs. Fulton, World Service and new membership drives; Mrs. William Cherkasky, yearly calendar of events; Mrs. Jack Phillips, mimeograph, and Mrs. Kristine Barney, scrapbook.

During September the Auxiliary assembled Tri-Y leadership books; checked the master addressograph list; assisted with the fall schedule bulk mail; and had a get acquainted coffee for newcomers and new Y members as well as the entire Auxiliary.

Fall Luncheon

Mrs. Mohr is chairman for the annual fall luncheon to be held at 1 p.m. Oct. 28 at the Riverview Country Club.

In October, the Auxiliary will assist with registration of fall classes. Bay sifter service will begin the week of Oct. 11.

New members, guests and auxiliary members will get acquainted at a coffee scheduled at 9:15 a.m. Nov. 18 in the Women's Lounge.

A surprise party has been planned from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Jan. 19 at the home of Mrs. Mohr, 112 E. McArthur St.

After a wedding trip through the eastern states, the couple will live at 316 W. Ramsdell St., Marion.

The annual spring luncheon will be held the last week of April. Auxiliary members will serve as hostesses and receptionists in the new Y Building during April.

Antique Show Planned at Wausau Club

The Wausau Memorial Hospital League has announced its annual antique show will be held Oct. 12 and 13 at the Wausau Club. The show will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Oct. 12 and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 13. Proceeds are donated by the League to Wausau Memorial Hospital.

Antiques, including American and European glassware, china, jewelry and furniture, will be for view and sale by 11 state-wide dealers.

The Country Cupboard will feature homemade jellies, preserves and baked goods. Tea will be served both afternoons.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard R. Mussfeldt, Milwaukee, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Beatrice, to David Henry Pingel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pingel, 326 S. Walter Ave.

The bride-elect and her fiancé were graduated from Dr. Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn. Miss Mussfeldt teaches at Zion Evangelical Lutheran School, South Milwaukee. Mr. Pingel is an instructor at St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran School, Franklin.

The couple will be married Dec. 26 at Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church, South Milwaukee.

Altrusa, District 7, Has Annual Parley

Mrs. George J. Hoffer, governor of Burlington, Iowa, "Come nor of District Seven of Altrusa, Aboard To Open Doors to Service in Seven" was the theme. The Altrusa club was given three out of a possible six District Cup Awards. It received the best Chronicle Award with Mrs. Leonard Smith as chairman; best Club Bulletin Award, Miss Genevieve Mortell, editor, and the best Evangelical Lutheran Church, Greenville. The Rev. Orvin Sommers officiated at the 2:30 p.m. double ring rite.

Promises Exchanged

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buman, route 1, Appleton. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Piechocki, Nichols. A sister of the bride, Miss Donna Buman, acted as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Holz and Mrs. Robert Valley. Miss Cindy Buman was a junior bridesmaid.

The bride's brother, Eugene Buman, Shiocton, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jerome Buman and Robert Valley. Dennis Buman and Carl Piechocki were ushers. Randall Zastrow was a junior attendant.

The Silver Dome Ballroom, Greenville, was the setting for a reception. Mrs. Piechocki is employed at Tuttle Press Co. Her husband is with Murphy Construction Co., Black Creek.

A Stop at Oneida for the LWV

BY SENA GRAY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"Help the Oneida Indians lift themselves by their own bootstraps."

"Programs won't work unless the Indians do it themselves."

"The Oneidas must take control of leadership."

These statements expressed Monday morning before over 100 League of Women Voters from throughout the state were of one over-riding theme — help them help themselves.

Buses carrying women from the Milwaukee and Madison areas joined League members from the Fox River Valley, DePere and Green Bay at the Episcopal Church hall at Oneida to hear tribe representatives, clergymen and Community Services personnel talk on problems of the Indian community.

Part of Tour

The Monday morning stop was part of a two-day tour, taking League women to migrant worker camps, Job Corps camps, Oneida, Menominee County, the Stockbridge Indian Reservation and the Antigo potato growing area.

The Rev. Harry Vetter, vicar of Holy Apostles Episcopal Church at Oneida, said that the Indians must preserve some degree of "Indianess." This they can offer and therefore become a part of society.

Indian high school students are offended when a fellow student points them out as Indians, Father Vetter said. "He feels himself center of ridicule, as opposed to an Irishman who feels the center of attention when pointed out as an Irishman," the priest noted.

Mrs. Cornelius Baird, an

Oneida Indian, told the women that she was surprised to be speaking to them in that she is not a member of the Tribal Council and has been back to Oneida for only three years.

'What's The Use'

"We have had many people making surveys here," she pointed out. "but nothing has ever come from them. We say what's the use, nothing is ever done. What are the possibilities for having something done? What are you going to do? What is the purpose of this meeting?"

Mrs. Walter Heil, Appleton, is a member of the Appleton committee that prepared the 1956 study of the Oneida Indians, asked Mrs. Baird to enumerate the Indians most pressing problems.

"We need late buses for the high school students so they may participate in extracurricular activities," Mrs. Baird stated. The Indian youths of the area attend West DePere, Pulaski, Seymour or Freedom High Schools. "They don't have the opportunity to do anything but attend classes," she said.

Mrs. Baird told of a volunteer group from the community which made a survey of living conditions. "We found that 51 per cent of the homes do not have wells. Many drive miles for water."

The speaker, secretary of the housing committee, reported that bids for the public housing projects will begin Wednesday. "By Oct. 28 we will know who will be doing the building," she stated.

The project began two years ago and the committee worked out the arrangements with the Indian Bureau. Ten units will be built for the elderly. These separate dwellings will have a living room, bedroom, kitchen, complete bath, central heating and no basement.

The accommodations for 26 low income families will be built in two-family houses. The largest will have five bedrooms. Applications are now being accepted for both types of housing. (This housing has been available to non-Indian low income families since 1937.)

A Special Culture

Father Vetter, in his formal presentation, outlined the need for all children to learn the good things about the Indians. "To understand them at all we must recognize their culture," he said.

He also discussed discrimination against the young people in high schools. Because the youths are unable to stay after school to participate in activities, they do not come to know the other students well enough to become integrated into that way of life. "They stick together too much," he said. "It is best for the students to learn about structured organizations and leadership in the high school situation and through outside activities. They must acquire the ability to associate with others."

In challenging the group, Father Vetter said, "If all you think you need to do to help them is to give them new plumbing you are making a mistake."

"To know the people, read their history. Then you'll understand their needs better," he elucidated.

Need for Industry

Father Vetter continued, "What we need most is an industry in our own community so that men may provide for their families here at home. You can't feed a family of eight or nine on summer work. We have a good skilled market here. These people are talented with their hands."

An elderly couple, Mr. and Mrs. N. Grant Forman, also attended the session. They are doing missionary work for the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints in the Oneida area. The couple, in the area for a month, agreed with Father Vetter that something is needed in Oneida to hold the people together.

Carl Bruno, formerly with the Appleton YMCA, now representing the United Community Services of Green Bay, challenged the League members in their own communities.

He asked them to extend a helping hand to Indian college students in their cities. "Give these students a sustaining relationship."

He also mentioned the Indi- dian Vocational Education Act, College Scholarship Program and Economic Opportunity Act. "On the legislative level you can be only as effective as you are on the local level," he told the League of Women Voters group.

The tour-goers sat at long banquet-type tables in the church hall for the morning session. Behind the doors leading into the hall are classrooms for the 45 grade school children.

Episcopal nuns would lead small groups of girls or boys, walking in orderly single-file fashion, on their morning trip to the rest rooms. One little six-year-old girl with sharp dark eyes and rosy cheeks wore an unmistakable look of enthusiasm along with her red plaid shirt. Her future should be as bright as she is, but, more than likely, her life will be much like her mother's... many children... insecurity... economic depravity.

Chartered Buses From Milwaukee and Madison carried League members from the southern part of the state. Discussing the morning session, technique at Howard University he finds time to be one of the country's leading tournament bridge players.

In rubber bridge Dr. Henry would bid six clubs instead of six notrump. The play is far safer at the suit contract.

People who play safe don't win tournaments. You have to risk a 1370-point slam to try for the extra 70 points you would win at six notrump.

At six notrump Dr. Henry took the first spade trick in dummy and immediately tried a finesse with the jack of hearts. If this worked he could give up one club trick and still get back with the ace of hearts for the rest of the clubs.

Finesse Loses

West took the queen of hearts and returned a spade to dummy's ace. Dr. Henry led a heart to the ace and led out the top clubs, discarding a spade and two diamonds from dummy.

If the six missing clubs broke 3-3, South would be home. When the suit failed to break, South needed good breaks in both red suits.

Dr. Henry led a diamond to win a finesse with dummy's jack. Next he cashed the ace of diamonds in the hope that the kind would drop. It did. Finally, he cashed the king of hearts, hoping that the two missing hearts would fall together. They did.

Your Problems

Professional Care, Not Just Friendship, Needed for Girl

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am an 18-year-old girl whose parents want me to do something I consider cruel. Please advise me.

My best friend who is also 18 tried to commit suicide yesterday. I don't think she really meant to kill herself. She is a smart girl and she'd know how to finish the job if she really wanted to. I think she was only seeking attention.

This girl is attractive and lives in a lovely home and has plenty of money to spend. She's always had trouble with her parents. They give her money and gifts, instead of love, and she resents it.

My folks say I must stop seeing her because she is not right mentally and she might attack me. They also say it will hurt my reputation if I go around with her.

My friend tells me things she could never tell anyone else and I know it helps to get things off her chest. She needs me more than ever now. What shall I do?

— Torn

Dear Torn: Your loyalty is admirable, and I agree that it would be wrong to abandon the girl completely. Nonetheless, you should loosen the lines. Your friend is unstable and the attachment could be destructive to both of you.

She should be unloading on a psychiatrist. Urge her to get that kind of help.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a problem that I have never heard of in my whole life and I'll bet you have never heard of it either.

I'm 16 years old, a good student, better than average looking and I have plenty of dates. So what's the problem? My mother. She wants me to go steady, and I don't want to.

My mother was born in Europe and she came here at some of her odd ideas. She says:

Landers

It is not decent for a girl to date five or six different fellows. According to her it means that the boys pass the word from one to the other that she's an easy mark and they are all having a good time with her.

I tried to explain that the chances for getting intimate are reduced when a girl goes with many boys rather than with one. She said, "I'd rather have you get intimate with one nice boy than go with every boy in town."

This shocked me. What is your opinion? — Dazed

Dear Dazed: I hate to tell a girl that her mother is wrong — so I won't. I'll just say I don't agree with her.

People who were raised in another country often have ideas which are different from ours. Mark it up to a foreign culture and stick to your own ideas.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I read your column every day and we are tired of letters from married people who fight all the time. We thought you might enjoy hearing from a blissfully happy couple for a change.

Richard and I have been married for 13 years and we have eight beautiful children. We are as much in love today as we were the day we got married. We think we have discovered the secret of a happy marriage and we want to share it with the world. Here are the rules we live by:

1. Always kiss each other good night no matter how bad an argument you may have had during the day.

2. Always kiss each other before leaving the house.

3. Work together and play together.

4. Whichever one asks for a divorce must take the children.

In closing I would like to say we don't have much money but we feel like millionaires. — Mrs. R. K. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: Your letter was so sweet I decided to scrape off the chocolate-marshmallow sauce and print it.

CARPET BUYERS!

Beware of Nation-Wide Rug Sales Racket!

City after city is being invaded by smooth-talking telephone soliciting carpet salesmen bilking the innocent public out of millions of dollars annually. Salesmen usually operate in one location only, until forced out by court orders, or the Better Business Bureau, or local organizations.

The Consumer Division headed by Roy R. Pytel, Supervisor of Consumer and Trade Practice Section, Madison, warns the public against fraud and deception in carpet sales, with over 800 complaints of fraudulent carpet telephone solicitations received in less than a year.

Mr. Pytel advises:

1. GO TO A LOCAL, ESTABLISHED, RELIABLE DEALER. Beware of telephone solicitations or door-to-door salesmen, or other types of no-address stores.
2. DON'T BE MISLED by offers of something for nothing, commercial carpets, free gifts, or other fantastic price cuts and "bait" offers.
3. IF YOU DON'T KNOW YOUR CARPET, KNOW YOUR DEALER. Deal only with retailers with a known unquestionable reputation.
4. DON'T BE RUSHED by "last chance" or "this is a remnant left over from a 'commercial' installation." Take your time, compare the product and the price. A reputable dealer wants you to be satisfied.

Tentative Pact Okay Reached At Thilmany

Strike Forestalled;
Unions Will Vote on
Terms Within Week

KAUKAUNA — A tentative agreement on a new contract has been reached by officials of Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. and representatives of two unions which have been negotiating since the previous contract expired Aug. 1.

Terms of the new contract, which must be ratified by union vote, were not announced. The agreement was reached late Monday night in a bargaining session with a federal mediator.

The unions, International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers Local 147 and United Papermakers and Paperworkers Local 20, notified Thilmany last week of termination of contract, which would have allowed the unions to strike after midnight tonight.

The tentative agreement forestalls the possibility of a strike tonight.

Local 20 union members were to vote on the new contract at 12:30 and 3:30 p.m. today. Local 147 members will vote at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Voting will be at the VFW hall in Kaukauna.

Appleton Man Takes His Life

William Locke, 23,
Found Slumped in Car in Garage

A 23-year-old Appleton man took his own life in his car about noon Monday, according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps, who listed carbon monoxide poisoning as the cause of death.

The victim was William E. Locke, 1304 W. Taylor St.

The man, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Locke Sr., told his mother he was going to the garage to work on his car about 11:30 a.m.

He was found slumped on the right side of the front seat about noon. The car doors were locked from the inside, Kemps and Appleton police said, and a vacuum hose ran from the exhaust pipe through a partly open window into the car. Although the ignition key was on, the motor apparently had quit running, Kemps said.

A relative broke a car window, removed Locke and attempted to revive him by mouth to mouth resuscitation. The man was pronounced dead on arrival at Appleton Memorial Hospital where he was taken by ambulance.

Truckers' Strike Expected to Continue; Talks Achieve Little

Wages, Other Issues Will be Discussed at Thursday Meeting

There was every indication that when we started," was the reaction of Atty. Gordon Gill, tractor suppliers in the Fox Cities would last at least another week after talks Monday failed to produce a settlement.

Reports were that bargainers for the Valley Contractor Suppliers Association and Teamster and Operating Engineer Locals accomplished little during their 12-hour session at the Conway Hotel.

Negotiators for parties involved met with Arvid Anderson and Donald Lee, Madison, of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (WERB) from 1 p.m. Monday to 1 a.m. today.

Another meeting is set for Thursday at 1 p.m.

No Resolve
"Wages and other issues have yet to be resolved," was the comment of Robert Schlieve, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 563 which struck the contractor suppliers Aug. 27.

The strike came after union and management failed to arrive at terms on a 1966 contract, the previous contract having expired June 1.

Schlieve said it was his understanding further mediation at Appleton Memorial Hospital meetings would be held Thursday and Friday.

Fulltime Attorney Issue to Be Solved

Aldermen Will Decide Whether
To Change Status of City Post

The city council will decide city's present parttime elected Wednesday night if the position city attorney, receiving $6,900 a year. Last year the council hired Atty. Dennis Herring to help with the city's legal load on a parttime basis for $3,600 a year.

When the council agreed to providing Froehlich with an assistant last October, it said the position of city attorney should be made fulltime by May 1, 1966 or sooner.

Ald. John MacDonald (7th) asked his colleagues Wednesday night whether the council could act on the city attorney proposition without having a suggested fulltime salary.

Council Must Decide
He was informed the first step would be to have the council determine whether it wants the city to have a fulltime city attorney, and then have the personnel committee recommend a salary.

The committee also: Withheld payment on a bill submitted by a Madison legal firm for services rendered in recodifying the city ordinances when Aids, MacDonald and Donald Beyer (20th) questioned why the total exceeded the contract price by more than $4,000.

Reviewed the proposed departmental budgets for 1966 of the city clerk, treasurer, assessor, attorney and finance director.

Resolution Introduced
In addition, Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th) recently introduced a resolution calling for an ordinance making the attorney's job elective, fulltime and setting a salary, plus stipulating his office be located in the city hall.

Board Feels $5 Million Sufficient for AHS East

The Appleton Board of Education believes that the plans and specifications of Appleton High School East can be modified without seriously detracting from our educational aims, to an extent such that the total cost of the project will not exceed $5 million.

This view regarding the report of the special committee which was set up to study the proposed Appleton High School East project was released by Dr. Roy Whitney, president of the school board, in a letter

"Although we are not yet in a position to make definite statements," Dr. Whitney wrote, "it is our present opinion that such modifications would include at least one major deletion from the plans, several other deletions of a less significant nature, some substitutions of less costly materials and equipment for those presently specified, and some deferrals of equipment and furniture until such a time as the school population makes it necessary to add them.

"As of this writing, we are not clear regarding the proper procedure to follow in order to accommodate these modifications in respect to the existing bids, and we have asked the city attorney for advice in this regard."

The letter concluded with an offer to submit a revised proposal and request for bonding of the school at the earliest possible time, if needed.

The proposal would include a new breakdown of costs and

County Airport Passenger Service Up 25 Per Cent

Air Wisconsin, North Central
Flights List 1,713 Boarding,
Terminating Persons in Month

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Business Editor

Commercial airline business at Outagamie County Airport in September ran 25 per cent higher than any other month in Fox Cities aviation history.

Airline passenger boardings totaled 450 on Air Wisconsin flights, and 430 on North Central Airlines flights for a total of 880 passengers. The previous highest month was June of 1964 when 682 persons boarded North Central flights at the old Outagamie County Airport.

Altogether, including passengers who terminated flights, 1,713 passengers used the new airport facilities — another record. Passengers terminating flights on North Central totaled 335, while the figure for the new Appleton-based airline was 298.

Major Decrease
Passenger boardings on North Central flights at the Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh, on the other hand, showed a major decrease from August to September.

From August, when there was no Air Wisconsin passenger competition, to September, there was a drop of 1,006 passengers using the Winnebago airport facilities.

Previously, more Fox Cities airline users had to board flights at Oshkosh because of the scarcity of flights at the Outagamie airport.

Flights Canceled
The total of 880 boardings at the Outagamie County Airport was far below the number of reservations that had been made, however. Six North Central and 15 Air Wisconsin flights had to be canceled because of inclement weather. Flight cancellations because of foul weather cost Air Wisconsin 152 actual reservations. Weather cost Fox Cities aviation history.

North Central about 30 passenger boardings. As a result, about 300 passenger boardings were lost at the Outagamie airport, dropping the month's total from about 1,100 to 880.

Passenger boardings at the Winnebago airport during September were 3,134, compared to 3,633 in August, while passengers terminating were 3,051, compared to 3,536 in August.

Decreases Shown
North Central's figures at the Appleton airport in September showed decreases from one year ago — originating passengers.

Students Get Leaflet Urging AHS East Okay

Teachers Distribute PTA Material Asking
For Parental Support

Public school teachers distributed "white papers" to students Monday urging parental support for the board of education's $5.6 million proposed Appleton High School East.

The three-page pamphlet was from the executive board of the PTA Council of Appleton, according to the heading.

Copies were also sent to members of the city council some of whom claimed the parents of public school children "are getting but one side of the story."

Unit 'Full of Frills'
Several aldermen have contended that $5.6 million is too much for building and equipping the school which they claim is "full of frills" and part of "a monument building program."

(A copy of the "white paper" appears in today's People's Forum.)

The PTA group took issue with recent recommendations that the school cost be reduced to $5 million or $4.5 million. The PTA executive board said if the council does not want to approve the full $5.6 million appropriation, it should then be willing to go for the $5 million figure.

Legal Opinion
(In a legal opinion Monday, answering questions submitted by the superintendent of schools, the city attorney advised that any appropriation below $3.5 million would require rejection of prime bids and readvertising.)

The PTA board asked parents to call their aldermen and town chairman and request they vote for an immediate bond issue and construction of the high school.

Heating Firm Reports Theft of $36 Cash

Theft of $36 from a cash box at Better Home Heating and Air Conditioning, Inc., 817 W. Northland Ave., was reported to the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department Monday afternoon.

Officials of the firm said the theft probably took place over the weekend.

Permanent Burning Ban Suggested to Appleton Council

Report Issued on Three-Month
Trash Prohibition This Summer

A permanent ban on outdoor trash burning should be considered by the Appleton Council at combined garbage-trash would a future meeting, members of the public safety and street and sanitation committees decided at a more than one-hour meeting at city hall Monday.

The joint meeting had been called to receive a report from Public Works Director Robert W. Bues on the impact of the three-month burning ban carried out during July, August and September on a voluntary basis.

Bues said he did not have a statistical report and doubted if any comparisons could be made. He did tell the joint committee, however, that the volume of trash collections increased by 50 per cent during the test period.

More Hours
Bues said it was not necessary to hire additional full-time employees or purchase more equipment to handle the heavy trash and rubbish load.

He said this also was true when the city went to biweekly trash pickups last year, after having only once a month collections previously. The city has a semiweekly garbage pickup service. Bues admitted that under the new system crews were putting in more hours and it required hiring part-time help at intervals.

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), street and sanitation chairman, wanted to know if it would be possible to combine trash and garbage and have twice-a-week pickups.

Complete Revision
Bues replied that it would require another complete revision in the city's collection system. He said several questions would be posed if such a policy were adopted.

For example, Bues said, trash pickups are made at the curb while the garbage is collected from the back of the residence. If there were to be a combined collection the pick-up point would have to be designated.

Bues also questioned whether would work when it came to Outagamie County Court disposing of material at the Branch 2, was arrested early city's sanitary landfill at Mack-Sunday by Outagamie County

Blaze Routs Mother, 2 Children From Home

Upstairs of Two-Family Apartment Hit by Fire of Undetermined Origin; No Injuries

Fire of undetermined origin time later Mrs. William Hanson, this morning routed a mother 1048 E. Eldorado St., who lives downstairs apartment and burn-over to say there was smoke over the upstairs of a two-family home at 1100 E. Eldorado St.

Escape Unharmd
Mrs. Borsche and the children escaped unharmd from the house. Borsche, who was work-months and 20 months, were down stairs when they heard a "terrible noise" upstairs about 9:15 a.m.

Mrs. Borsche said the children began to cry and a short broke out

Firemen battled the blaze for about 20 minutes before bringing it under control. Two trucks were dispatched and a third unit was summoned later, according to Deputy Chief Harold Kramer.

Starts on Second Floor
Flames were coming out the south windows when the first units arrived, Kramer said. The fire apparently broke out in the southwest corner of the second floor, according to Kramer.

At first it was thought there still were children in the burning building, Kramer said, but before firemen went in to check, Mrs. Borsche said her children were with her.

Dexter said he lost nearly all his personal belongings in the fire. He did not have insurance. Most of the damage was confined to the second floor, although there was some water damage in the first floor apartment. Most of the Borsche's belongings were covered with tarpaulins by firemen and were not damaged.

Borsche said he and his family probably will stay with his parents in Appleton.

The frame house is owned by Chester Van Horn, Shiocton. He said the house is partially covered by insurance.

Firemen Used Three Lines in battling a second floor blaze at 1100 E. Eldorado St. shortly after 9 a.m. today. Mrs. Donald Borsche and her two children fled from the downstairs apartment after a neighbor told them smoke was coming from the upstairs. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Proposed Menasha Bridge Put Off by Lack of Funds

Road Commission Delays Project For Little Lake Butte des Morts

BY JOHN TORINUS JR.
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — The prospect for a new bridge over Little Lake Butte des Morts at Ninth Street was set back indefinitely today by a report from the State Highway Commission.

In a letter to Mayor John Klein the commission stated a finding that any decision to give the bridge construction the go-ahead would have to be deferred because present state legislation does not provide enough funds.

The commission's district engineer, L. W. Empey, repeated, "The finding was not a completely negative one."

"The commission does not want to appear ridiculous by merely finding that the construction is not necessary," he said. "The alternative, if not ridiculous, is certainly not practical from a financial standpoint."

Inadequate Financing

City Director of Public Works Robert Poss commented on the report. "It points out the complete inadequacy of present highway financing legislation."

He maintained that the immediate problems of traffic-choked cities should be faced before funds are allotted to more long-range projects, such as a super highway to the northern part of the state for the purpose of attracting tourist trade.

James Island May Become Game Refuge

MENASHA — James Island will be investigated as a possible site for a game refuge, Mayor John Klein told the common council Monday.

The island's past and future became a question mark last spring when an archeological team from Lawrence University requested permission from the city to excavate there.

When city officials looked into the ownership of the island, which is mudstream where the Fox River flows into Little Lake Butte des Morts, no records could be found.

The U. S. Land Office has been asked to investigate the ownership, and if it is unowned, the city will be able to claim the title, Robert Poss, director of public works, said. He added that the city will have first claim on the property since the city surrounds it.

The mayor asked the aldermen to accompany him soon to look over the island and consider its possibilities. He said a lot of ducks inhabit the island, and therefore he has asked a representative of the state Department of Conservation to give an expert opinion on its potential as a refuge.

Appleton School Board President Claims Comparisons Between Structures Difficult

Appleton High School East shall Granros on human rights; and the 1965-66 school budget James Retson, on multi-age were the main topics discussed grouping at the elementary at the first Appleton Parent-Teacher Council meeting of the time, on juvenile detention problems Monday.

Dr. Roy Whitney, president of the school board, and William Spears, superintendent of schools, explained the school and the budget and answered questions.

Whitney referred to an article which The Post-Crescent published Sunday comparing the prospective Appleton school and a recently completed West Allis high school.

"It seems to be a hard point to get across that comparisons are difficult to make," he said. "The needs of the West Allis school are different from those of Appleton."

He said that the cost of the school, as quoted, was the cost of the structure. "And bids for it were taken two years ago. Since then building costs have gone up."

"Also, much of the equipment costs, such as library books, were put in the operational budget, not the bond issue at West Allis. We could decrease the bond issue here, but our operational budget would go up considerably," Whitney said.

Budget Explained

Spears explained the prospective budget of $4,883,000, an increase of $372,000 compared with the 1964-65 budget. Instruction and operation accounts for most of the increase. The tax levy request is $3,925,000.

WEA Meeting Set Nov. 4-5

20,000 Teachers Will Convene; Schools Close

Fox Cities public schools will close Nov. 4 and 5 for the annual Wisconsin Education Association convention in Milwaukee. Area teachers will be among the 20,000 Wisconsin Educators expected in Milwaukee for the event.

Theme will be "Invest in Learning," a topic selected by Mrs. Lillian Zahn, Chippewa Falls, WEA president. Speakers will be Miss Lois Edinger, immediate past president of the National Education Association; Harry Reasoner, CBS White House correspondent; and Glenn A. Olds, executive dean of the State University of New York.

Workshops for Social Studies Teachers Planned at UW Center

Community Planning, Work of Area Commission Topics for Two Sessions

Community planning workshops for Fox Valley social studies teachers will be held this Thursday and Oct. 14 at the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center. The workshops will be jointly sponsored by the Center and the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission.

Approximately 85 public and parochial high school teachers are expected to attend the two three-hour sessions which will begin at 7 p.m.

Goal of the workshops is to supply social studies teachers with information about the work of the planning commission which can be relayed to the students.

Robert Najem, dean at the Center, will welcome delegates at the Thursday session. Speaker will be Dr. Coleman Woodbury, chairman of the Department of Urban and Regional Planning at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He will talk of the commission, will discuss "Planning and Local Cooperation."

A film, "Communities Together," produced by the commission, will be shown.

A panel discussion on "Community Cooperation in Planning" will feature Joseph Bayor, Outagamie County highway geon, mayor of Kaukauna; Willard Johnson, president of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce; S. F. Shattuck, retired industrialist and one of the founders of the planning commission; and John Torinus, editor of The Post-Crescent.

At the Oct. 14 session, Veldor Kopitzke, chairman of the commission's education committee and an economics instructor at the Center, will discuss "The Regional Planning Commission." Eugene Franchett, director, will speak on "The Comprehensive Plan."

A panel discussion on "Implementation of the Expressway System" will feature Walter Rasmussen, Appleton planning director; Clarence Brownson, will feature Joseph Bayor, Outagamie County highway geon, mayor of Kaukauna; and Franchett.

Meeting Planned on Request to Council For Cadet Program

The Appleton Police and Fire Commission probably will meet with the city council's personnel committee next Monday about a proposed police cadet program here.

The cadet proposal, submitted last month by Police Chief Earl Wolf, was discussed briefly at the police and fire body at a regular meeting Monday night.

The discussion followed a request for study by the personnel committee.

Wolf has asked that authorization be given for the hiring of four cadets under 21 years old for employment in 1966. He included $16,000 in his 1966 budget for the program, pending the decision by city officials.

Council Told Not to Give Town Water

MENASHA — Mayor John Klein and Director of Public Works Robert Poss recommended to the city's aldermen Monday that three town requests for the right to use city property for the town's new water system be turned down.

The common council will decide tonight whether to allow the town to lay pipe along two small sections of Ninth Street, one west of Warsaw Street and the other west of Racine Street, and under a block-long section on Manitowoc Road on the east side of the city.

The two officials charged that the town is laying its new town-wide water system "willy-nilly," using standards below those required for water mains in the city.

Using Clay Fill

Poss said that the town is filling with the same clay that was taken out of the ditches. The city requires that water mains be laid on a crushed gravel base or back-filled with sand, Poss said.

Man Fined $50 For Pointing Gun At Appleton Boys

The pointing of a shotgun at three Appleton youths cost Carson T. Curtis, 28, route 4, $50 and costs of 24 days in the county jail when he appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Monday afternoon.

Curtis was arrested Saturday evening by Appleton police who said he took a gun out of the trunk of his car and pointed it in the direction of three boys, two 15 years old and one 14. The incident occurred in the 500 block of West College Avenue.

Curtis pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawful pointing of a firearm. His gun was ordered confiscated.

12th Charity Bazaar Set at Valley Fair

The 12th semi-annual Good Neighbor Fair charity bazaar will be held in the enclosed mall at Valley Fair Shopping Center from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday.

Forty-four organizations from the Fox Cities area have reserved booths for the event.

Receipts from sales go to participating groups to support their various activities.

A wide variety of groups will be represented, including churches, Scouts, civic, patriotic and agricultural youth groups. They will be selling such items as homemade articles, food, candy, novelties, rummage, religious articles, flowers, plants, literature, cook books, herbs, bulbs, books and greeting cards.

DeWitt Fires Sisler as Reds' Field Manager

Cincy President Ired With Late Season Tumble

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dick Sisler, fired as manager of Cincinnati's fourth-place Reds, went job-hunting today as Bill DeWitt, president and general manager of the club, promised other team changes for 1966.

DeWitt, disenchanted, first with a team which a week before the season's finale last Sunday was contending for first place, and second, apparently with the way Sisler did his job, announced "with regret" Monday that Sisler would not be re-hired. But added DeWitt, he has been offered "another job" — unspecified — with the Reds organization.

Sisler, "very, very disappointed," said the other job was not clearly defined during a 50-minute closed session with DeWitt, but he ventured it might be "a scouting position or manager of a minor league club."

In an interview with newsmen, DeWitt showed plainly his chagrin and disappointment in the team and its late-season tumble.

One newsmen reminded DeWitt that coaches Jim Turner and Reggie Otero had submitted their resignations during the final days of the campaign and that DeWitt's dismissal of Sisler now followed.

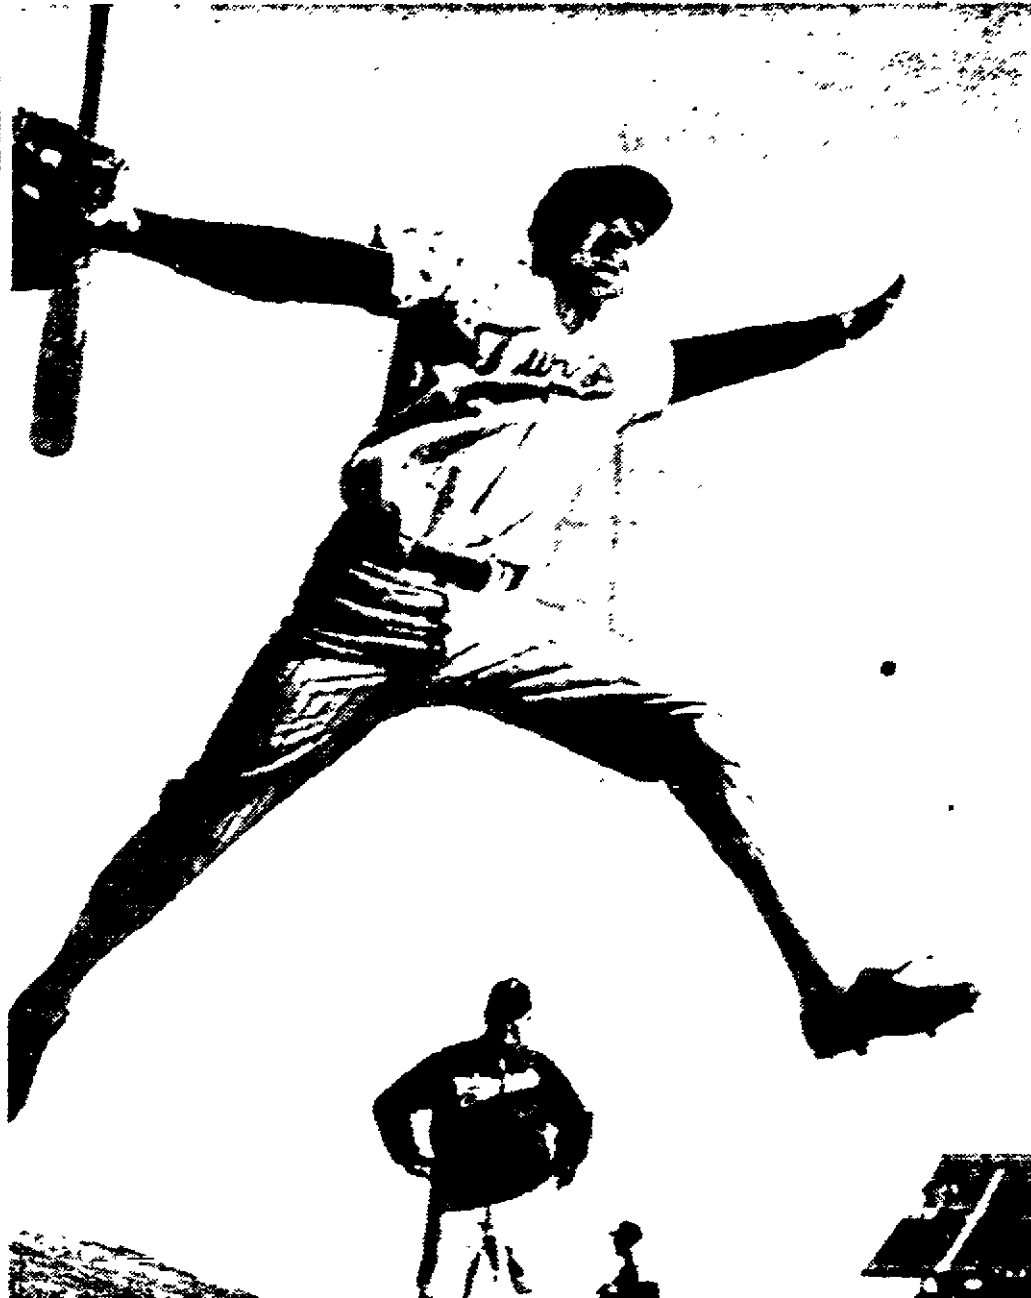

"What about Jim O'Toole?" — a 17-7 pitcher in 1964 who wound up with a 3-10 record in the season just closed? And Frank Robinson, whose batting prowess slumped to a point where, at one time recently, Sisler publicly called on the fans to "lay off of him?"

"Not Naming Names" — "I'm not naming names," replied DeWitt, "but the roster next year will be different." He declined elaboration.

Sisler, whose family is in Nashville, Tenn., returned to Cincinnati early Monday as his team scattered to their own homes. Newsmen were not informed in advance of Sisler's meeting with DeWitt, and Sisler greeted them in his hotel suite.

The 45-year-old son of George Sisler, who is a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, blasted Cincinnati pitching for its failure to come up to expectations. Many experts picked the Reds as an early season choice for the pennant, mainly because of their pitching strength.

Of them all, however, only Jim Maloney and Sammy Ellis were 20 - game winners, while O'Toole and other established hurlers, were, in the main, ineffective.

Zoilo Versalles, the speedy and energetic Minnesota Twins shortstop and former member of the Fox Cities Foxes, shows his enthusiasm with a mighty leap on the eve of his first World Series appearance. The Twins meet the Los Angeles Dodgers in the annual classic Wednesday. Twins' Manager Sam Mele (background) watches the antics of his star shortstop and the club's most valuable player. Cardinals Stop Dallas, 20-13, Gain Share of Eastern Lead

Randle and Triplett Score TDs; Coyboys' Renfro Runs 90 Yards

By MIKE RECHT
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals like their coach, Monday night. Wally Lemm, but nothing pleases them more than making guard Ken Gray. "It sure is a shame when you can't run Lemm saw films last week of Dallas winning its first two National Football League games by holding opponents to a total of nine points and then de-clarated: "They have possibly the best defense in the league." They said we couldn't run against them," said center Bob Demarco, as a proud bunch of first two games, wheeled through the highly touted Dallas defense for 197 yards Monday night, including 93 by Bill Triplett. Dallas had given up only 183 rushing yards in its first two games.

Game's Tempo Set
The high-powered St. Louis offense, which scored 76 points in its first two games, bowled over the Cowboys in the first half. The Cardinals scored the first two times they got the ball on a four-yard pass to Sonny Randle and Triplett's 10-yard run. The tempo of the game was set.

Only a 90-yard touchdown run with an intercepted pass by the Cowboys' Mel Renfro kept the Cardinals from a 20-0 lead. St. Louis linemen gathered around a sheet of statistics games.

Anticipated Being Cut Twice

Packers' Kostelnik Finds Security

BY KEN HARTNETT
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Ron Kostelnik has finally found security in Packers' land after years of watchful waiting on the bench.

The 6-foot-4, 260-pound defensive tackle has not only found a home in Green Bay; he's bought one.

And judging from the way Kostelnik has been playing in his first National Football League season as a full-fledged starter, he'll be commuting to work for many a season to come.

"For the first few seasons I was trying to push someone else," said Kostelnik, a five-year veteran who became a regular last season only after an injury had sidelined tackle Henry Jordan. "Now someone else is trying to push me."

Although starting at tackle for most of the 1964 season, Kostelnik's job wasn't locked up in the Packers began preparing for the current campaign.

Ron, who learned how to knock heads on the high school level, anticipated being cut at least twice," said Kostelnik. "The second day in camp I injured my knee and believed it was all over then. But, fortunately, everything turned out to be a hunch."

playing fields of Pennsylvania, had plenty of competition, including the 13-year-veteran Dave Hanner, the Packer favorite he had nudged to the sidelines after Jordan recovered from his injury in 1964.

But, competition was nothing new to the 25-year-old Kostelnik, a Cincinnati graduate who didn't believe he had a chance to make the Packers as a rookie in 1961.

"I anticipated being cut at least twice," said Kostelnik. "The second day in camp I injured my knee and believed it was all over then. But, fortunately, everything turned out to be a hunch."

Badgers' Rice Wins Weekly 'Savage' Award

Junior Right End Excels on Defense Against Hawkeyes

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin end Eric Rice displayed from the opening kickoff against Iowa the kind of rugged football play that earned him this week's savage award.

The honor is bestowed on the player who the coaches believe did the most outstanding job on defense. Rice went after the prize on the opening kickoff by tackling the Iowa runner within the 20-yard line.

"Make no mistake," defensive coach Deral Teteak said Monday, "he was in there in the beginning and at the end and throughout the game."

Rice, a 6-foot-4 junior, was credited with making eight unassisted tackles, three with assists and generally helping Wisconsin to its 16-13 upset over Iowa in the Big Ten opener for both schools.

Plays Right End
Rice, who plays right end, has gone all the way on defense the last two games. Last season he played only 90 minutes but earned a letter by coming on strong against Minnesota in the finale.

His father is head football coach at Fox Point Nicolet High School. Eric played his prep ball at Granville High School on a team coached by Pat Levenhagen, captain of Wisconsin's 1956 team.

Wisconsin came out of its victory over Iowa with no major injuries. The Badgers are hoping to have the services of starting defensive tackle Bill Maseller for their game Saturday against Nebraska at Lincoln.

Maseller, a 244-pound senior, sat out the Iowa game with a leg injury.

Wisconsin will share first place in the Big Ten with Michigan State and Northwestern for at least a week. The Nebraska contest is Wisconsin's last game before the Badgers encounter six Big Ten opponents.

Red Sox Trade Monbouquette For Two Tigers

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have opened what they promise will be a busy trading season for themselves by swapping veteran pitcher Bill Monbouquette to Detroit for outfielder George Thomas and infielder George Smith.

"This is the beginning of many trades for us," said Boston Manager Billy Herman where team finished ninth in the American League.

"We have quite a few things on our minds," said Herman who is here with Boston club officials for the World Series. "We're negotiating for an even bigger trade which could be completed before the end of the Series."

Monbouquette, a 20-game winner in 1963, was 10-18 with 3.69 earned run average this year. The 29-year-old right-hander started 35 games and pitched 228 2/3 innings. He pitched a no-hitter against Chicago in 1962.

He played against the Bears Sunday after McGee was racked up.

"Why, Boyd practically played on one leg," said Coach Vince Lombardi. "The fact that he played at all was a real credit to him."

Dowier said his ankle is still sore. "But it should start coming around this week," he added.

The Packers play San Francisco Sunday in Green Bay.

Will Show Films Of Terrors' Win

The Quarterback Club of Appleton High School will meet at 7:30 p.m. today and view films of the Terrors' 26-0 victory over Green Bay Preble.

Coach Ade Dillon will narrate the films. The public is invited to attend. Coffee will be served after the movies.

Roberts Praises Vikes' All-Around Play, Eyes Next Big Assignment

Cornell Invades Lawrence Bowl Saturday Afternoon

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"It was a tremendous team effort," a happy Coach Ron Roberts said in looking back on his Lawrence University team's come-from-behind, 26-21, victory over St. Olaf College in the football bowl dedication game Saturday.

"We're glad we won and the boys did a fine all-around job, but we cannot look back. This weekend we have another big game," the Viking coach emphasized, referring to the Midwest Conference contest with Cornell here Saturday afternoon.

The victory over St. Olaf was the second straight for Lawrence this season and keeps the Vikes in a tie for first place in the conference. Beloit, Ripon and Monmouth also have been victorious in their first two outings.

Roberts cited the strong defensive work of the Lawrence team as a key factor in the victory Saturday and also had praise for the offense. He pointed out that the Vikes recovered three St. Olaf fumbles and intercepted three passes. Roberts also cited as a key play in the game, the fourth down-with-inches - to-go situation for St. Olaf which Lawrence stopped. The Oles were on the Lawrence two and marching well, but Ken Koskelin of the Vikes broke through the line and spilled the ball carrier for a 2-yard loss. This preserved a 19-7 halftime lead for Lawrence.

"We made some mistakes, just as in our first game," Roberts explained, "but, thank stir if the Dodgers won in the goodness, they haven't hurt us shortest time possible."

The Series, 62nd between the rival league champions, opens made the game go," the Wednesday with Drysdale opposing Grant.

The 30-year-old ace of the Twins' staff posted a 21-7 record during the regular season. Lawrenced piling up 322 yards rushing against the Oles with son.

Bob Schoenewetter and Jerry Gatzke leading the way, have put up the right-handed Schoenewetter carried the ball 19 Drysdale an 11 to 10 favorite times and gained 172 yards despite the Twins' home advantage while Gatzke lugged the leather tige. The same betting gentry rule the Dodgers a 7 to 5 favorite. Quarterback Chuck McIte to win the Series and will Kee added 34 yards on keepers give 15 to 1 against a Dodger and sophomore fullback Dick Witte gained 12 yards while only carrying twice.

The Vikes came out of the St. Olaf game free of any serious injuries and the squad should be at full strength to rthe Cornell tilt.

Cornell is one of the defending co-champions in the league and has 16 lettermen back. The Rams have lost both of their league starts so far and both losses have been by one point. Cornell was nipped by Grinnell, 21-20, and lost to Monmouth, 19-18, last Saturday.

Leading the Cornell attack is Duane Schultz, an all-conference selection last season and Mike Vinyard, an all-loop pick as a sophomore who was injured most of last season. End Rick Schimmel of the Rams, also was an all-conference first team selection in 1964.

The Rams will be one of the biggest teams the Vikes face this season. Two of the Cornell linemen tot the 260-pound mark and sparkplug guard John Holmes is 223.

Power must win it for the Twins. Manager Sam Mele will rely on the heavy hands of Harmon Killebrew, Tony Oliva, Jimmie Hall, Don Mincher, Bob

World Series Will Open Wednesday

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — "Win It All, Twins," the signs here implore but the feeling is Minnesota may not take a single game from the Los Angeles Dodgers, whose matchless pitching may perpetrate a four-game sweep by the National League champions.

In 1963, the same Dodgers, behind the dazzling pitching of Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and John Podres, stunned the New York Yankees in four straight. Koufax and Drysdale are still around, more menacing than ever. Podres has been replaced on the Big Three by another southpaw, Claude Osteen.

Osteen's 15-15 record for the campaign is a modest one compared to Koufax' 26-8 and Drysdale's 23-12. But Dodger Manager Walter Alton is mindful that when Osteen pitched to Washington in the American League, he defeated the Twins six times without a loss.

Not In Same Class
Minnesota's Mudecat Jim Grant, Jim Kaat and Camilo Pascual do not exactly comprise a sickly trio but not even the most avid American League roofer would put them in the same class with K. D and O.

Pitching, as everybody concedes, is 75 per cent of the game. In the Dodgers' case, it is 90 per cent. Since good pitching usually stops good hitting, it would not cause too much of a stir if the Dodgers won in the shortest time possible.

The Series, 62nd between the rival league champions, opens made the game go," the Wednesday with Drysdale opposing Grant.

Rate Dodgers 7-5 Favorites Over Twins

Allison and Earl Battey to offset the Dodgers' superiority in speed, defense and pitching.

Held in Check

The Twins own the most powerful attack in the American League. They are reminded of the Milwaukee Braves. Yet Dodger pitching held the Braves' power in check. In the final series between the two teams, Drysdale, Koufax and Osteen held the Braves to three runs in as many games.

The Twins hammered 150 more runs in 1965. The Dodgers hit only 78 to rank 20th in the majors. The Twins out-hit the Dodgers 254 to 245. But the Dodgers were matchless at chiseling out occasional runs and making them stand up.

Los Angeles writers called the Dodgers a "cap gun" offense team. One writer said he'd seen more power in a second hand lawn mower.

"I keep hearing that we don't score any runs," observed Alston, "but we usually manage to score more than the opposition. We use what you might call a scratch, slide and steal type of attack."

"We may surprise somebody in the World Series," Alston added. "We might change tactics and even hit a home run or two."

Grant has never pitched against the Dodgers. Neither has Drysdale against the Twins with another Burson interception and a fumble recovery.

Grant Tunes Up

Drysdale last pitched Thursday. He would have worked in Sunday's finale had the pennant not been clinched the previous day. Grant tuned up for the one with two innings of relief Saturday.

Drysdale doesn't think the week-long layoff will affect his pitching.

"It's as the same in 1963," he said. "I pitched the last game of the season on Sunday and waited until the following Saturday to pitch the third World Series game against the Yankees."

The 6-foot-6 Californian threw a three-hitter at the Yankees, outdueling Jim Bouton 1-0.

The majority of the experts pick the Dodgers because of their pitching. Alston plans to use just three pitchers. Sam Mele of the Twins may go with four.

Thursday's match-up figures to be Koufax against Kaat. Sandy, virtually certain to be voted the Cy Young Award, denoting crowning baseball's best pitcher, won his 26th game in pitching the pennant clincher against the Braves last Saturday. He set a major league season strikeout mark with 382 and tied another major league record by winning his fourth straight earned run title at 2.06.

Kaat's 1965 record is 18-11. The third game, first at Los Angeles, next Saturday, will pit Osteen (15-15) against Pascual (9-3).

Pigeons Owned by Griesbach, Josephs Win Concluding Races

Birds owned by Menasha's Don Griesbach and Kimberly's Don Josephs won races which concluded the season of the Valley Pigeon Club over the weekend.

Griesbach's bird averaged 1-230.43 yards-per-minute en route to victory in the 200-mile race from Rochester, Minn. Josephs' bird posted a 1.252.09 yards-per-minute mark to win the 300-mile from New Ulm, Minn.

Others among the leaders in the 200-mile, in order of finish, were birds owned by Clarence Schommer, Menasha; Julius Bosmans, Kimberly; Ken Forrester, Kimberly; Steve Beavers, Little Chute; R. Bernard, Fred Reuter, Reuter again and Alvin Borree, all of Kaukauna.

The leaders in the 300-mile were Al Jansen, Little Chute; Julius Bosmans, Sager Bros., and Tom Biese, Kaukauna; Walter Dombrowski, Menasha; Dombrowski again, Gerry Kness, Appleton; Al Jansen and Bosmans.

the Cardinals all night was possibly playing it too close to the vest in the second half.

"We get that early lead and it's hard to keep from becoming too cautious and conservative," said Charley Johnson, St. Louis. We use what you might call a quarterback who threw only three times in the last half after completing 14 of 23 for 156 yards in the first half.

The Cardinals managed only two field goals by Jim Bakken in the last 30 minutes. But Dallas could do no better against a St. Louis defense that alertly ended two final Cowboy threats with another Burson interception and a fumble recovery.

Purdue's Holcomb Out With Injury

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue's No. 2 quarterback, senior Doug Holcomb, will be lost to the team for two or three weeks because of hairline fractures of small bones in the back.

Fifteen other members of the football squad were treated Monday for minor injuries suffered in the Boilermakers' 14-14 tie with Southern Methodist last Saturday, but all are expected to be ready for the upcoming Iowa game.

Sophomore Jim Klutcharch was moved up to No. 2 quarterback in place of Holcomb. The only other position change moved Bill Roach to starting defensive right end in place of Jim Long.

Do you know what was the biggest score ever run up in a college football game? ... Answer is 227-0 ... Dickinson beat Harvard in 1900 by that score ... The highest score ever made by a major college team was when Georgia Tech beat Cumberland in 1916, 222-0.

World Series tickets were not always hard to get ... There was a World Series game in Detroit in 1908 for which only 6,210 fans showed up ... That's the record for the smallest attendance in history at a World Series game.

All of us listen to the World Series on radio or watch it on TV, but did you ever wonder when the very first World Series was ever broadcast? ... First time the Series was on the air was in 1922 ... And the first World Series radio announcer in history was a newspaper man—Grantland Rice, who described that 1922 Series over a small network of a few stations.

Oliva, Versailles, Hall Vs. Wills

Twins' Power, Dodgers' Pitching, But Speed Could be Decisive Factor

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — There's little doubt that the Los Angeles Dodgers have the statistical edge over the Minnesota Twins as the top power in the American League, although only 15-15, had a 2.79 ERA — better than any of the Twins starters.

AL's Top Winner

Grant was the AL's top winner with a 21-7 record but his ERA was 3.30. Kaat, 18-11, was best among the big three for the Twins at 2.82. Pascual, recuperating from an operation, had a 9-3 record and a 3.35 ERA.

In the power department it's the Twins. Six players hit 16 or more homers — Harmon Killebrew 25, Bob Allison 23, Don Mincher 22, Hall 20, Versailles 19 and Oliva 16. Two Dodgers managed 12 — Lou Johnson and Jim Lefebvre.

The Twins also have the AL batting champ in Oliva, who hit has the statistical edge over the Twins' top three of Jim Grant, Jim Kaat and Camilo Pascual.

Drysdale had a 23-12 record with a 2.78 earned run average during the regular season. Koufax was the top winner in the power but the big question as the World Series approaches is: Who has more zip?

While acknowledging that Maury Wills, the sparkling Dodger shortstop with 94 stolen bases, is in a class by himself, Minnesota Manager Sam Mele points out that speed was one of the main factors that made the American League champions out of last year's sixth-place Twins.

"I don't believe there is a team in our league that can compare with the Dodgers," Mele admitted. "But we've got some guys of our own who can run, and we intend to go for the extra base every chance we get. I'd have to say that we've won from 10 to 15 games because of heads-up running."

Wills is unquestionably the leader in stolen bases but Mele's point has statistical backing.

Doubled Total

The Twins, who stole only 46 bases in 1964, doubled that total this year with 91. That compares with 167 for the Dodgers, more than half of that Wills' total.

But the Twins do have speed in shortstop Zoilo Versailles, whose 26 stolen bases are more than any Dodger with the exception of Wills: right fielder Tony Oliva, and center fielder Jimmie Hall.

As for pitching, the Dodgers' big three of Don Drysdale, San-dy Koufax and Claude Osteen touchdown.

The co-leaders of the Fox Valley Frosh League, Menasha and Roosevelt, play host to Kaukauna and Einstein, respectively, as the circuit enters its third round of games Thursday.

Other games send Wilson to Neenah and Einstein to Madison.

Roosevelt moved into a share of the top spot by blanking Kimberly, 20-0, in a rain-delayed, 2-day affair. The game began Thursday, but was halted after one period by rain with Roosevelt leading, 6-0.

Friday's conclusion saw Roosevelt add a pair of touchdowns for the victory. Kyle Mackey scored the first touchdown on a 60-yard pass play. Ken Zelle romped 50 yards on a reverse for the second six-pointer and Dave Brown added the PAT for a 13-0 advantage.

The last Roosevelt score came on a 30-yard sweep by Brown. Wally Day passed to Mike Simon for the point-after.

Bob Duszak Hits Double Eagle On Reid Muni's 10th Hole

Bob Duszak, of 307 W. Marquette St., has become the second Reid Municipal golfer of the season to fashion a double eagle, one of the rarest feats on the links.

Duszak, playing last weekend in a threesome with Don Sprague and Bill Heermann, cracked a 280-yard drive on Muni's 485-yard 10th hole and followed with a 4-wood shot that trickled into the cup for a deuce on the par-5 hole.

Don Hayes, 16-year-old Appleton youth, posted a double eagle on Muni's 490-yard 16th hole midway through the season.

Duszak's double eagle helped him to a 4-over par 75 for the 18 holes.

According to Golf Digest, a national periodical which serves as the clearing house for hole-in-1, double eagles and ace-shooters, only 77 double eagles were reported in 1964. The total for 1963 was a mere 52.

MADISON — A proposal for a new office of athletic commissioner for the nine state universities is being considered by the board of regents of state colleges, the board office reports.

The plan that has been discussed informally for several years has now had the endorsement of the officials of the state university athletic conference, and the presidents of the nine schools in the system.

The University Council of Presidents has named a committee of presidents and athletic officials to refine the proposal and to present it to the regents at a meeting here later this month.

The growing state universities heretofore have handled their athletic programs separately. Athletic programs have steadily grown in response to heavily increasing enrollments at the schools which now aggregate 38,000.

The 1966 Northeastern Wisconsin Golf Association's Amateur tournament will be staged at the Butte Des Morts Golf Club July 5-8. The Northeastern Open is set for Wausau Country Club Aug. 27-29.

Other NEWGA dates for '65 include the Clinic, at Oneida on May 16; Best-Ball, at Antigo's Bass Lake, June 10-12; Northeastern Ladies, at South Hills CC, July 10-13 and the annual meeting at BDM Sept. 29.

Tom Hadley's 1-over par 73 at the Ridgeway Country Club set the scoring pace over the weekend. Hadley nosed out Ed Verbrick for top honors. Verbrick posted a 74.

Dick Spangenberg and Tom Goodrich posted 77s.

Personal Security Okay Rights Goal For '66 Legislature

Measure Would Put Civil Rights Criminal Cases in Federal Courts

BY SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Episcopal Society for Cultural and National's civil rights leadership and Racial Unity. The church has set a new congressional goal for 1966. Passage of a personal security act to take civil rights criminal cases out of state courts.

"We had the Public Accommodations Act in 1964 the voting rights bill in 1965 and we look forward to the personal security act in 1966," Joseph L. Raub, counsel for the National Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, said in an interview today.

The conference, an amalgamation of more than 100 church, union and civil rights groups, met privately last week.

Violent Deaths

The meeting came shortly after a Hayneville, Ala., jury acquitted Thomas L. Coleman, a special deputy sheriff of Lowndes County, of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of Jonathan M. Daniels, 27, civil rights worker for the church.

The leadership conference asked itself Raub said "is this thing going to continue? Have we seen the last of the judicial rights bill in 1965 and we look forward to the personal security act in 1966." Joseph L. Raub, counsel for the National Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, said in an interview today.

Chicago School Officials to Meet On Withholding Of Federal Funds

CHICAGO (AP) — U.S. Board of Education officials and city school Supt. Benjamin C. Willis will meet in Chicago Thursday to discuss the cutoff of federal funds for Chicago schools, Willis announced Monday night.

Francis Keppel, U.S. commissioner of education, announced in Washington last week that $30 million in federal funds were being withheld from Chicago public schools pending a further investigation of discrimination complaints.

The complaint was made in July by Albert C. Raby, co-chairman of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations. Raby asked the government to withdraw federal funds from the public schools until alleged segregation policies were amended.

Civil Rights Act

Keppel said a preliminary investigation indicated some instances of failure by public school officials to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights Act. He did not specify the charges.

Willis said in a statement Monday night that Chicago and the State of Illinois have been exposed to federal controls.

"I resent this high-handed way of holding up millions of dollars for the benefit of the children of Chicago," he said, and added:

"Education is and must be a function of the state. Federal money comes to Washington from the incomes of the people of America. Certainly included are the citizens of Chicago and Illinois."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Nobel Prize-winning scientist has proposed a $20 billion project to build a nuclear-powered spaceship that could whisk men to Mars at a speed of 540,000 miles per hour.

Such a project, said Dr. Wilford F. Libby, could be completed in 10 to 15 years. If successful it could carry astronauts to Jupiter in 17 months or could reach Mars in two weeks.

Libby told a news conference Monday that scientists are planning to determine the feasibility of such a vehicle. Results of the study will be reported to the government, Dr. Libby said.

Dr. Libby described the proposed vehicle in a speech at the annual conference of the Instrument Society of America.

"If we are to send men to Mars and even farther, the energy must come from the atom," he said. "We can't hope to do much in space with chemical engines."

The craft would be assembled while in an earth orbit over a period of years.

"The idea is not obviously possible, nor is it obviously impossible," said Dr. Libby.

Decision on Birth Control Believed to be Unsettled

Pope Paul's Address to U.N. Seen As Repeat of Traditional Stand

BY BENNET M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Despite Pope Paul's words against birth control in his speech to the United Nations, observers at the Vatican believe his final decision on the moral side of the issue is still open.

The Vatican Ecumenical Council has been debating the controversial question. With millions of Roman Catholics seeking new theological guidance, bishops in the council have been insisting that clear guidance be given.

Observers here said the Pope's words before the U.N. General Assembly were intended to discourage organized worldwide campaigns for contraception — and no more than that.

ed such problems in centuries," the Pope reportedly said. "And these problems deal with subjects, let us say, strange to men of the Church, and even embarrassing. But we must say something. What? We really need God to enlighten us."

Ecumenical Deadlock

A special papal commission on birth control has been unable to come up with unanimous recommendations after 15 months of study. That deadlock has been noted in the Ecumenical Council.

Leading progressive prelates have traced a new look at physical union between man and wife, apart from the needs of procreation, and have asked for extensive research into sexual matters.

The most liberal theologians here have said they think the Pope's ultimate decision will favor holding the Church's line at the rhythm system of periodic continence while allowing a limited degree of contraception by couples whose conscience offers them no other choice.

Aquanauts Will Try to Lure Samantha Back

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Samantha's good health confirmed. Navy aquanauts in Sea Lab 2 want to find out today if their friendly mascot can be coaxed down again.

The sea lion took a whiff of the capsule's helium-charged air Saturday, ascended the 265 feet to the surface and swam Monday she returned to the project's surface vessel to play and accept bits of fish and steak.

Civilian psychologist Mike Greenwood, 35, and Navy aquanaut Ken Conda, 33, tried taking a swim with Samantha. That frightened her—but they expected her to return to the area in the early morning darkness.

Negroes Beat Railwayman After Crash

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Enraged Negroes beat a white railwayman to death Monday night after South Africa's worst train disaster.

The general manager of the South African Railways said at least 78 Negroes died in the derailment of a commuter train but the death toll might reach 150.

An early report indicated nearly 200 persons were injured. Negro survivors turned on W. Hartslief, 20, a signalman, and another white railwayman when they rushed to the scene. Hartslief was battered to death with stones and pieces of wreckage, and the other railwayman was injured badly.

The last three coaches of the crowded rush-hour train left the tracks as the train was entering a suburban station, a preliminary inspection showed.

Screaming passengers spilled out for nearly a quarter mile along the track as the coaches overturned and broke apart.

Machinist Union Ends Walkout From Boeing

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Boeing Co. machinists from Cape Kennedy, Fla., to Seattle went back to work today under a contract providing for a six-month study of possible revisions in the company's performance analysis system.

They voted by an 8-1 margin Monday to accept an agreement ending a 19-day walkout of 35,000 production workers.

The Machinist Union failed to achieve its demand for a union shop, but the company agreed to another major demand — that dependents be brought under hospital-medical-surgical coverage. Boeing will pay $7.50 per month in the first two years of the three-year contract and $10 per month in the last year for each employee who elects this coverage. An employee with an average family will pay about $19.

May Strike Again

The union will be free to strike again after six months if agreement is not reached on performance analysis, the system by which the company grades employees for promotion, demotion or discharge. A committee-union committee will study it.

The union wants the system eliminated or modified to give more weight to seniority.

Vito Mazzacano of Chicago, an international representative of the union, told Monday's meeting of about 12,000 members here. "Top management of the company came to us Saturday and said, 'We agree P.M. (performance analysis) has to go.'"

However, Lowell P. Mickelwait, Boeing vice president for industrial and public relations, said only, "The company will approach continuing discussions of performance analysis with an open and objective attitude."

Widespread Area

In addition to the Seattle meeting, union members voted per month in the first two years at Wichita, Kan., Cape Kennedy, New Orleans, Huntsville, Ala., Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Ogden, Utah, and Minuteman missile sites.

Boeing plants and projects had continued operation since the strike began Sept. 16.

Agreement on wages and an strike again after six months if additional paid holiday was reached before the strike.

Wages will be increased 16 cents per hour in all classifications during the first year and demotion or discharge. A committee-union committee will study it.

The old contract varied from $2.20 1/2 to $3.58 1/2 per hour.

Your Money's Worth

Double Standard Used By U. S. Businessmen

A U.S. maker of coffee-dispensing machines got the idea last year of displaying his product at a commercial fair in Italy.

Second of Series

It was a good idea: Europeans are coffee drinkers and the foreign market for vending machines is wide open. The potential customers studied the coffee dispenser in amazement, for the labels read "black," "black with cream," "black with sugar," "black Machines Unadjusted Again, the potential customers crowded around, but when they put their own coins into the machine, nothing happened. The product hadn't been adjusted to accept anything but U.S. coins. When the appropriate U.S. dimes and quarters were inserted, nothing happened either. The U.S. manufacturer hadn't bothered to fill it, even with cardboard samples. The result was more resentment against the U.S. not sales.

A third U.S. manufacturer of apparel got the sound idea recently of marketing his line in Germany and he made an excellent deal with a German importer.

The importer worked hard, built up a popular demand for the line in department stores, and in a short time he was able to cable a fat, profitable order to the apparel company. The response was zero: the U.S. manufacturer had no merchandise on hand to ship and wouldn't go to the trouble of creating it in this case, the bad results were threefold: the stores were annoyed, their customers were angry, the importer was injured.

Multiply Horrors These three true "horror" stories of U.S. businessmen abroad can be multiplied by countless thousands, for the foreign market assuming the customers have the same culture and buying habits as consumers at home — an obviously ridiculous, self-defeating assumption.

(1) An appallingly large number of U.S. businessmen maintain a "double standard" for dealing at home and overseas. They wouldn't dare display fixtures that do not work at a U.S. show, give a potential U.S. customer instructions in a language he couldn't read. Yet, these "insults" are commonplace at international shows.

They wouldn't dream of entering a stiffly competitive struggle for customers in a new area without thoroughly researching the area and taking steps to meet the new customer demands. Yet, they do enter a

(2) A shockingly large number of U.S. businessmen follow "stop and go" marketing practices abroad that they know would bankrupt them in the home market. 'Stop and Go' Practices They wouldn't try to develop customers for a product line — and not be ready to ship replacements when requested, not be prepared to offer repair service when needed, not be organized to display, distribute, promote. Yet, the same firms which shudder at "stop and go" practices here pursue them overseas.

(3) A distressingly large number of U.S. businessmen still "dump" old products abroad, break faith with their foreign dealers, dangerously underestimate the level of our foreign competition and shrug off the enemies they make by arrogant policies.

As reported Monday, the amount by which our exports exceed our imports is running 26 per cent under 1964 — and boosting our trade exports has now become crucial to the success of our drive to wipe out the red ink in our balance of payments.

The "double standard" and "stop and go" practices must be ended. All companies which are guilty of the policies outlined in this column are cheating themselves and hurting our country.

NATO Receives Phantom II Jet

NANCY, France (AP) — NATO air forces in Western Europe have begun receiving their first American RF4C Phantom II jet reconnaissance aircraft, described as the world's fastest and highest flying operational military planes.

The first of the 1,600 miles per hour planes arrived at nearby Toul-Rosieres Air Base following a nonstop flight from Shaw Air Force Base, S. C.

Hospitality Cited as Top Vacation Lure

LAND O'LAKES (AP) — What is Wisconsin's most valuable vacation lure? Fishing? Hunting? The scenic lakes? "Hospitality is what makes a guest stay longer and come back sooner," Don Taylor of Merrill said Friday.

Taylor told the closing session of the three-day convention of the Resort Association of Wisconsin, Inc., that the recreation industry must promote its hospitality, take advantage of research, and increase its efforts to attract the vacationer.

We can't deny that, of all the millions of babies, a few have an abnormally long cord, and a few of these babies happen to squirm around so the cord gets tangled. But it's an uncommon accident when this causes any harm.

And certainly nothing the mother does has any effect. You are surely familiar with the way women used to work in the fields (and in some parts of the world still do) right up to the time the baby was ready to be born. These babies were born

World Weighs Words Of Pontiff Before U.N. In History-Making Trip

BY GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With a "God bless you all" Pope Paul VI today returned to his "spiritual city" at the end of his history-making bid for peace in the "terrestrial city" of men and their governments.

"We shall never forget this extraordinary hour," he said in farewell. An estimated 3.8 million people lined the streets.

"Serve it!" He quoted his Lord, "Blessed are the peacemakers."

In a swift, day-long round of unprecedented confrontations, with the great and the many of America, with President Johnson, and before the United Nations, he pressed that same urgent exhortation.

"If you wish to be brothers, let the arms fall from your hands," he implored the U.N. General Assembly. He challenged it to make real its noble oath: "No more war, war never again!"

Other Leaders

He met also, in brotherly intimacy, with Protestant, Orthodox and Jewish leaders, and both he and they pledged mutual labors in behalf of international conciliation.

Then, before he departed, he stopped off at the World's Fair, and as fireworks lit the air, he declared, "We have offered our prayers to Christ... whose message of peace and concord we have come to proclaim."

Thoughtful statesmen of the world's communities found promise in the dramatic papal mission. "All of us... will draw inspiration" from it, said U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, a Buddhist.

It "may incline all states to do their utmost to make this organization a truly universal instrument of peace," said the President of the 117-nation General Assembly, Amintore Fanfani of Italy.

Personal Appeal

And the head of the mightiest of the countries, President Johnson, said the Pope's striking personal appeal "may be just what the world needs to get

Dixie Democrats Take Floor in Filibuster on Union Shop Ban Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democrats take over from Republicans today a filibuster aimed at killing repeal of a ban on union shops.

A veteran of several civil rights filibusters, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., will captain the Dixie forces for the day as they try to block with words Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's motion to bring the repeal bill to the floor.

The filibuster began Monday under the leadership of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, and Wednesday GOP senators will hold the fort again. For this newly forged coalition of 25 Southern and Republican senators has decided to alternate daily efforts to frustrate the White House-backed drive for passage.

Death's Ride On Highways Continues

4 More Fatalities Reported in State; Toll Hits 754

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Death continued to ride Wisconsin highways Monday with four more fatalities, reported, including two sisters, as the traffic toll for the year reached 754. On this date last year 819 fatalities had been recorded.

Rebel Control

The Radio Malaysia report said the rebels controlled several districts, including the Jogjakarta region 250 miles southeast of Jakarta. An earlier Malaysian report said army troops had retaken Jogjakarta after Communist elements captured it.

The army high command reportedly ordered the crack Siliwangi Division into central Java to clear out the rebels. The latter's main strength seemed to come from units of the region's Diponegoro Division.

A diplomatic report from Singapore said three key leaders of the attempted revolt were in central Java: Col. Suberman, commander of the Diponegoro Division; Air Vice Marshal Omar Dhani, the pro-Communist head of the Air Force; and Lt. Col. Untung, leader of the coup last Thursday.

Many Surrender

Radio Jakarta claimed that many men of the Diponegoro Division had surrendered to the government forces.

Another Malaysian radio report said armed Communist units were using guerrilla tactics to harass government troops along the main roads between Jakarta, Bogor and the mountain resort of Bandung, 75 miles southeast of Jakarta.

The army's new chief, Maj. Gen. Suharto accused the Air Force of "mercilessly" killing the former army chief of staff — Lt. Gen. Achmad Yani, an anti-Communist — and five other army generals.

The mutilated bodies of the six generals were found in a common grave near an Air Force base just outside the capital.

Ayub Postpones Trip to Britain

LONDON (AP) — President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan has postponed a state visit to Britain this month because of "preoccupations" in his own country. Buckingham Palace announced today.

The statement said Queen Elizabeth II has expressed hope that Ayub will be able to make the twice-postponed visit next year.

Much Speculation White House Rumors Predict Announcement

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House newsmen were alerted today for what could be an important announcement later in the day.

With evident understatement, White House officials suggested reporters would be well-advised to be on the job. Some had planned to take the day off after returning from New York and the historic meeting of President Johnson and Pope Paul VI.

This suggestion, made to several newsmen, set the White House press corps buzzing with secret of considerable magnitude was at stake.

Speculation was not dampened by the presence in the White House driveway Monday night of an impressive array of official limousines, some hours after say much that was revealing, Johnson's return.

BULLETIN

TOKYO (AP) — Communist Chinese air force planes shot down a U.S. fighter plane over the China mainland today, Pe-kung Radio claimed.

The Chinese language broadcast said the plane was one of four American aircraft that intruded over the mainland. It said the intrusion was into Kwangsi Province in southeast China at 12:28 p.m.

Chinese planes intercepted the aircraft and downed the one, the broadcast said.

Viet Cong Hit U. S. Patrol in South Viet Nam

All Americans Reportedly Killed Or Hurt in Ambush

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A Viet Cong force ambushed a small U.S. Army patrol in the northeast of Saigon today and killed or wounded every American, a U.S. military spokesman announced.

Another U.S. Army patrol heard the shooting and rushed to the scene but the Viet Cong had fled. Two guerrillas were reported killed.

The patrol unit that was ambushed from the 1st Infantry Division, was made up of less than 12 men, the spokesman said, but the exact number was not given.

Three other Americans were killed in air missions inside South Viet Nam, the spokesman said.

Elsewhere, two Viet Cong assaults of battalion size were reported.

India Says Pakistan Crossed Line

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India charged today that Pakistani troops had crossed the international frontier and penetrated 100 yards into Indian territory in southwest Kashmir.

Pakistani troops "intruded into one of our positions," the Defense Ministry said in a communiqué.

The intrusion took place in the Nawashahr region north of Srinagar, the communiqué said.

In the Akhaur sector, Pakistani troops attempted to encroach on territory under our control but their attempt was foiled.

Indian-Pakistani Skirmishing in this Area in August Resulted in Open Conflict Between the Two Nations That Lasted 22 Days

Pakistan charged Monday that India ignored a cease-fire declared under United Nations auspices on Sept. 23 and was attacking in the Chhamb sector, which is in the same general area of Kashmir.

101 Killed

Government forces claimed 101 Viet Cong killed in two other actions Monday — 70 in the southernmost province of An Xuyen and 31 bodies counted after heavy fighting near the Phu Cu Pass in Binh Dinh Province.

Police kept the whites and Negroes separated although both groups surged at one another.

Heckled by Whites

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Police arrested 106 marching Negroes Monday night, then brought back their leader to help control other young Negroes who pushed toward some 150 heckling whites.

Negroes filled the street when officers loaded a bus with arrested demonstrators. They shook their fists and yelled to police near the whites: "Get those klansmen out of there."

Among the whites who had gathered a half block from a Negro church, where the march started, was E. L. McDaniel of Natchez, Mississippi, grand dragon of the United Klans of America.

Rebel Resistance Reportedly Falls on Indonesian Island

Crackdown on Red Supporters Being Conducted in Jakarta

SINGAPORE (AP) — Reports from Jakarta today said organized rebel resistance in central Java appears to have collapsed.

The reports, sent through diplomatic channels, said small pockets of rebel forces were still scattered throughout the central part of Indonesia's main island but these were believed to be ill armed and poorly led.

The diplomatic reports said an American businessman, who was not identified, drove the length of Java in the past two days and found very little fighting.

The American reportedly encountered rebel forces but found them quite friendly. He reported that many people he had spoken to in central Java were supporters of Lt. Col. Untung, the leader of the attempt last week to overthrow President Sukarno.

Radio Malaysia reported today that the army forces in control of Jakarta had begun a crackdown on Communists in the capital, arresting 200 Red supporters. Without giving the source of its report, it added that 5,000 people at a rally in Jakarta had demanded that the Indonesian Communist party be banned.

Jakarta Radio announced that Sukarno had called a meeting of his political and military high command Wednesday at his summer palace in Bogor, 40 miles south of the Indonesian capital. The meeting was expected to shed some light on the murky political situation in Indonesia.

Earlier the Malaysian government radio reported that fighting between government

Highways, Recreation

Gov. Knowles Asks Okay of Board Plan

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Warren P. Knowles today urged the swift adoption of a broad seven-point program that includes bonding proposals to accelerate highway construction and the development of state recreational land.

He told a joint session of the Legislature that of the more than 1,000 pending bills, his recommendation centered on the issues of "most vital concern" to the state.

"A brief session with positive action on the proposals will add immeasurably to the fine record that you have already established," Knowles told the lawmakers.

Highway Safety

In addition to the speedup in highway construction and recreational land acquisition, the Republican chief executive championed measures in the areas of highway safety, open housing and water pollution control.

He said he also would call a special, or resumed session of the Legislature next year to push through a general streamlining of state government.

Knowles' final proposal was a "war on crime" and he said the

WSU-O to Pick Finalists for Homecoming

One of 5 Seniors Will Reign as Queen At Oct. 30 Activities

OSHKOSH — Five senior homecoming queen finalists will be chosen from a field of six Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh coeds in a preliminary election today at the college.

Announcement as to who will be the finalists will be made at a special dance Friday at the Reeve Memorial Union. The homecoming queen will be announced at a queen candidates rally Oct. 25 to reign over the activities Oct. 30.

The six girls competing for the final election are: Janet Bachmann, Mayville, is majoring in lower elementary education with hopes of teaching either kindergarten or first grade. She is representing Phoenix Delta Pi sorority of which she is vice president.

President of Senior Class Bille Jo Bruhn, Plymouth, is president of the senior class at WSU-O and active in student government, legislature, state and art students association. She is majoring in art and plans to teach. She is candidate for Delta Sigma Phi.

Shari Frisch, Sheboygan, is active in the Newman Club and Associated Women Students and is majoring in English and French with aspirations of entering English education or the advertising field. She is representing Lambda Chi.

Luona Hanneman, Winneconne, is vice president of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and presently holds the title of 1965 Wolf River Queen. She is majoring in lower elementary education and is active in the Student National Education Association.

Plans to Teach Sue Snashall, Wauwatosa, is completing her senior year as an art major and plans to go into education. Last year she was voted one of the 10 best dressed women on campus and is representing Kappa Gamma sorority.

Sae Wilson, Fond du Lac, is a senior in lower elementary education and is active in the Associated Women Students organization, a member of the Quiver staff and the Student National Education Association. She is a Titanette and is social chairman for the Alethean sorority.

Contestants for the court of honor will also be narrowed from 29 to 20, five from each of the four classes.

Brillion Smithy, 82, Still Works

BY JOAN COENEN Post-Crescent Correspondent

BRILLION — To the first stanza of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's classic "The Village Blacksmith," could be added: "His shop is the last of Brillion's four. And then there will be no more."

Emil Landmann, 82, is proprietor of the blacksmith shop at 219 S. Main St. and recalls the days when the smith did all the repair work for farmers.

"In my native country, the blacksmith did everything," he never did forget that prominent German-born craftsman. He didn't find a money maker here, but he found a good way to work, too, such as the fix of a wagon and buggy wheels.

Today there is little need for a blacksmith. Modern machinery and motors have replaced the need for the saddle, axle, to the, force, mantle and other tools familiar to a smithy.

Landmann sharpens and fixes lawn mowers and scissors in his shop and once in a great while is called on to sharpen a plow point for a farmer.

Opportunity Assured After serving two years in the German army, Landmann came to the United States to see if he got the job and his first wages were $1 per week, plus board. "Money really grew on trees," he had read. Because the U.S. business world had a great kept busy six days a week and knew no one else here and all believes there is nothing better need for trained educated persons, ads were distributed those days," Landmann recalls. New London Council to Get Ordinance Revising Wards

Also Expected to Clear Way For Nursing Home Construction

NEW LONDON — An ordinance could not begin until November changing the ward bound because of two proposed streets any lines in the city is expected in the planned building site. A to be presented tonight to the public hearing will have to be city council.

The plan combines the second and fifth wards into a new district, splits the fourth ward into two districts at Pine Street and keeps the first and third wards intact.

The ordinance must be presented at a council meeting, then published for four weeks before the council can adopt it. Seven votes are needed to pass the ordinance.

Also to be brought before tonight's meeting is a change in the city's ordinance clearing the way for construction of a nursing home on 5½-acre site running east and west along Becker Road facing east on Division Street.

State Approval Given Plans for the 113-bed, $400,000 structure have been given State Industrial Commission approval and have been submitted to Ray Pelishek, director of public works.

Pelishek said the construction of the building would begin in November. The option to purchase that parcel is about to expire, according to the commission.

Plans for a second high rise dormitory are under way at the university, although officials of the Wisconsin State University office were not available for comment.

Other sites to be considered for purchase for WSU-O purposes along the waterfront are the Kubasia Marina and the Meredith property.

Women Bartenders Council at New London Debates Equal Rights

NEW LONDON — Women bartenders?

This question will be answered at today's meeting of the common council.

Monday the future of women bartenders was debated during the council committee meeting.

Most of the commentary favored permitting women bartenders but one alderman, Jerome Zaug, 1st, said he thought it his right to be opposed.

Zaug said the council should wait until Police Chief Jack Vinters can explain his reasons for not wanting women bartenders.

Ald Robert Rathel, 2nd, owner of Tiger's Bar, said a tavern operator has to hire dependable people if he wants to stay in business.

1947 Ordinance He pointed out the 1947 ordinance states that no person under 21 years of age or a female may be hired to tend bar. Waitresses may be hired at places where 20 per cent of the volume is food but they can not tend bar.

Rathel read an amendment to the ordinance deleting the word female.

At the Sept. 21 meeting the council voted to table action on the women bartender problem so they could question Algers.

Ald Fred Noack, 3rd, reported a Manawa tavern operator said that city was considering some ordinance governing women bartenders. Noack said Manawa presently allowed women bartenders.

Committee, Council to Give Views

BRILLION — The availability of city water and sewer mains and potential for street development at suggested sites of the proposed new high school, will be discussed at next Monday's city council meeting by members of the high school building committee and city planning and utility commissions.

Although some 15 sites have been offered for sale by landowners in and near Brillion, some building committee members contend more consideration should be given to the feasibility of building on land presently owned by and adjacent to the present school.

The majority on the 14-member building committee agree the school should be built as closely as possible to the district population center due to the cost of transporting students to and from school.

A 30 to 40-acre site is favored if the school is not built near the present athletic field facilities.

Twelve of the cases are for the architectural firm of Berners, Schober and Kilp of Green Bay can proceed with its work. One of the two cases scheduled to have been heard by the judge has been settled.

Scheduled Prior to Meeting Of Waupaca Council Tonight

WAUPACA — A public hearing of the rezoning of the new developed when the jail is built, Waupaca County jail site from residential to commercial will be held before the regular council meeting tonight at city hall.

The land to be rezoned is approximately 150 feet in depth across the entire frontage of the 13-acre site owned by the county. At the present time only 150 feet of the site is zoned commercial. With the additional 150 feet a better location for the jail will be possible on a parcel of land, county officials have said.

In exchange for rezoning the county has agreed to donate enough land for two streets. One

Senator Nelson Proposes Hiking Trail System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., has proposed the creation of a national hiking trail system "to put a hiking trail within easy access of every American family."

"Of all types of outdoor recreation facilities," Nelson said in offering his bill, "hiking trails pay the greatest dividends for the smallest investment."

The bill would direct the secretary of the interior and agriculture to establish the system on the 18 million acres of national park land and the 162 million acres of national forest land.

The proposed system would contain not only major trails, such as the Appalachian Trail in the East and the Pacific Coast Trail in the West, but networks of local trails of varying lengths.

City Plan Unit Okays Study on Annexation

had several major voluntary annexations recently, declaring, "They came about on a voluntary basis after we sat down and talked with the people from periods ranging from six to nine months."

Alston said the study would show what Appleton should consider annexing, along with making estimates on the costs involved in supplying the areas with utilities.

"We will also recommend whether or not the city can afford annexations in some areas," Alston said.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues and City Planner Walter Rasmussen favored the extensive study, contending the annexations should take place as the city is growing.

Commissioner Maurice Lewis said the City of Appleton had to take an aggressive annexation stand.

"I think it is a matter of grave concern. We should let the people know that Appleton is expanding and we want to make sure that it doesn't become an 'island city,'" Lewis said.

The scope of the study by the St. Louis firm would cover:

Consider Land Uses

— A determination of the areas which should become a part of the City of Appleton — based upon the economic, population and land use studies of the comprehensive plan.

— Estimated future land uses, along with consideration to natural boundaries, topography, transportation, present ownership boundaries, and the general character of the areas.

— General priorities for annexation of the various areas and a schedule setting for a five-year plan.

— Improvements needed in the annexation areas, plus estimates in providing services, such as police and fire protection, street maintenance and other normal municipal services provided by the city.

— Estimated costs of capital improvements the annexed areas would require.

Weather Good For Baseball

No Chance of Rain Seen in Minnesota; East Still Co'd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Good weather stretched from the Midwest to New England today, but the Weather Bureau had good news for baseball fans.

Temperatures comparable to a typical September day dropped a wide band from the midwest to the northeast coast and the breeze nudged much of the area.

The mercury had crept into the 80s over much of the area shortly after sundown Monday.

Strong northwesterly winds up to 30 miles an hour put a biting edge to the cold across the Northeast.

Snow dusted many of the New England mountains. Snow was forecast as far south as Pennsylvania.

Series to Start

Baritone October weather continued in Minnesota and the Weather Bureau reported, "It remains about 100 per cent certain there will be no rain in the Twin Cities—Minneapolis-St. Paul—Wednesday afternoon where the first World Series ball game is played in Metropolitan Stadium."

The Minnesota Twins, winners in the American League, will play host to the National League-winning Los Angeles Dodgers in the series opener Wednesday.

Rain dampened much of Texas Monday. Houston recorded 1.21 inches in a six-hour period.

The dry spell which has plagued the Pacific Northwest for several weeks was broken a bit as a storm swept inland from the ocean.

Rain in Oregon

Newport on the central Oregon Coast received .80 inches.

The rains were general along the coast from Northern California to Puget Sound and were moving inland.

Lowest temperatures, mostly in the 20s, were reported in Lower Michigan and eastern Michigan. The mercury dropped to 35 at Charleston, W.Va., a record low for Oct. 5. Readings generally were in the 30s from New England to eastern Kentucky and Wisconsin.

Skies were mostly clear from the Upper Great Lakes region and the northern Plains to the Southwest.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 22 at Pelston and Marquette, Mich., to 85 at Thermal, Calif.

Community Planning, Work of Area Commission Topics for Two Sessions

Community planning work speak on "The Comprehensive Plan for Fox Valley social Plan." A panel discussion on "Implementation of the Expressway System" will feature Walter University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center. The workshops planning director, Clarence Brownson, Outagamie County highway commissioner, and Franchett.

Approximately 35 people and parochial high school teachers are expected to attend the two three-hour sessions which will begin at 7 p.m.

Goal of the workshops is to supply social studies teachers with information about the work of the planning commission which can be relayed to the students.

Robert Neum, dean at the Center, will welcome delegates at the Thursday session. Speaker will be Dr. Coleman Woodbury, chairman of the Department of Urban and Regional Planning at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He will discuss "Planning and Local Cooperation."

A panel "Communities Together" produced by the commission will be shown.

A panel discussion on "Community Cooperation in Planning" will feature Joseph Bayor, mayor of Kaukauna; Willard Johnson, president of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce; S. F. Shattuck, retired industrialist and one of the founders of the planning commission, and John Torinus, editor of The Post-Crescent.

Robert Thom, dean of boys at Neenah High School and a member of the Neenah Planning Commission, will be panel moderator.

At the Oct. 14 session, Veldor Kophke, chairman of the commission's education committee and an economics instructor at the Center, will discuss "The Regional Planning Commission." Eugene Franchett, director of the commission, will

The Repeal of 14b

Section 14b of the Taft Hartley Act in effect gives the individual states federal authority to enact their own legislation banning labor contracts which require union membership. A number of states have enacted such legislation. They are known as "right-to-work" laws.

The leaders of organized labor do not like these "right-to-work" laws. Organized labor enthusiastically backed the candidacy of Lyndon B. Johnson for President. In return they have asked President Johnson and the Democratic Party to repeal Section 14b.

The House has approved a repealer, and it is scheduled to come up soon in the Senate. It has the votes to pass in the upper chamber too, but Senator Dirksen, the Republican leader, has threatened a filibuster to thwart passage before this session of Congress recesses. And Dirksen has lined up a fair amount of help for his effort, some from Democratic southern senators. It has appeared that the Democratic leadership might sidestep the issue in order to avoid a long delay in adjournment.

But now pro-repeal Congressmen have come up with a neat bit of strategy which may leave Senator Dirksen out on a limb.

Another piece of legislation awaiting action by the Senate is the bill allocating sugar supplies, a measure of extreme importance to states raising beets and cane for sugar. The House was supposed to pass it last week, whence it would have gone to the Senate for quick action. But it ran into a series of delaying tactics in the House Rules Committee, and now it probably won't receive House approval until later this week.

That means that the sugar bill won't get to the Senate until after debate has started on Section 14b. And quite a few of the Senators who were going to help Senator Dirksen with his filibuster are anxious about passage of the sugar bill. They may have to let the right-to-work bill come to a vote or risk seeing the sugar bill also die upon adjournment.

The authors of this neat maneuver have not been specifically identified, but it certainly can be assumed that the Administration had a hand in it. It's one more example of the President's handiwork in getting Congress to do his bidding.

On principle in this republic of so-called sovereign states it would seem that individual states should have the right to legislate in this field if they so desired. Wisconsin incidentally has not so desired: a "right-to-work" law has never been much of an issue in Madison. We do, however, have a fairly restrictive statute on the subject. It requires approval by two-thirds of union members before a union shop can be instituted. And this law too might be invalidated by a repealer in Washington.

It's in Washington where organized labor swings its full weight. And it looks now as though the Johnson debt to the unions will be paid off on Section 14b — with the help of a little sugar.

People's Forum

PTA Council Urges Alderman Ok Report, Start on New High School

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The City of Appleton is faced with a serious educational problem at the high school level. We now have approximately 2,200 students in a building built in 1937 to house 1,500 students. The City of Appleton truly did build for the future in 1937. This investment has paid handsome dividends during the past 30 years.

Now Appleton must again invest in the future and for the greatest of all national assets — namely children. These are the future leaders of our city, state and nation.

The school board has studied this problem for the past five years. They interviewed several architects and finally settled on Raymond LeVe. Together they designed a structure that would meet today's educational needs with vision and foresight for the future's constantly changing educational needs. When the bids were finally tabulated, the cost for a fully equipped high school came to $5,600,000. This cost was a disappointment to the school board because they realized the future difficulties that might be incurred in obtaining the necessary financing from the City Council.

This objection materialized rather fast. Alderman Ziemann, Sixth Ward, probably saved the school with his plea for a special citizens committee to study the plan and make its recommendations based on their answer to three questions. The questions and answers follow as well as the recommendations of the committee.

1. Is the proposed design of the school a good one and worthy of the expenditure?

Answer: The proposed design of the school is a good one. From an educational standpoint and well suited to the senior high school needs. Sufficient modifications to the design can be readily made to make it worthy of the expenditure.

2. Is there any way the design can be modified to reduce the cost other than a reduction in the bond issue by deferring costs to a later date?

Answer: Yes, the design can be modified to reduce costs. This can be accomplished by material substitutions, by eliminating requirements for space and by not acquiring some items until the increased school population demands them. There would be a mixture of substitutions, deletions and deferrals. By a combination of all these things the capital cost could probably be reduced by as much as $600,000.

3. What would be the impact of total rejection of the proposed high school plans?

Answer: In the event of rejection of the proposed plans, the serious overcrowding at the existing high school would be continued and increased for a minimum of one and perhaps two additional years. The architect's fees of about $172,000 would be a loss to the city. Any new design would have to cost less than the present one by that amount before there would be any savings. The annual rate of increase in building cost is itself reported to be increasing, which means that a year or two from now a given project will probably be more expensive. Thus total rejection would prolong a very undesirable educational situation and redesign would not guarantee a structure of equal suitability for Appleton's needs at a lower cost.

We recommend that the common council and town chairmen confer with the board of education in order to determine whether or not the board believes that it can proceed with an underwriting of $5,000,000 and if the answer should be in the affirmative, we then strongly recommend that the project be resumed as quickly as possible.

Now, we as parents, citizens and taxpayers are asked what can we do or what should we do? We feel that the future belongs to the children. To meet this future they must be well educated. In the past Appleton has supported an educational system that is recognized as being one of the better school systems in the state. This, however, will come to a halt if we do not get a second high school to relieve the serious overcrowding and overcrowding presently existing in our high school.

The special committee has recommended that the city council and town chairmen build the school at a cost of $5,000,000. This means the probable deletion of the following items from the original contract prices: swimming pool, $200,000; athletic field, $100,000; deferral of required instructional equipment and furniture, $195,000; and substitute materials, $195,000.

Some of these instructional items like band uniforms and instruments, library books etc. are not properly items for bonding but are properly items to be included in the operational budget. This means that somewhere, sometime they must be paid for and the tax rate affected.

The substitute materials will not weaken the building nor harm the design or educational function of the building. They will increase maintenance costs which means the operational budget will be higher each succeeding year because of this increased maintenance.

Now what have we accomplished with this $600,000 deletion from the original contract?

1. We have eliminated a swimming pool which if later installed will cost more.

2. We have put into the operational budget items that legitimately belong in the operating budget. For the year of inclusion only this will mean a higher tax. It will to a small extent result in annual principal and interest savings of the amount not bonded.

3. Substitute materials will result in a higher annual operational budget.

We as parents and taxpayers have a stake in this project as well as the city council of 20 aldermen and 4 town chairmen who will pass judgment on this school project.

If we believe in a good educational system, we in good conscience must contact our aldermen and town chairmen and tell them that if we can't have the full project, then they too in good conscience must vote for the special citizens committee report for a $5,000,000 school. We must tell them that we are willing to pay the taxes to educate our children. If we believe in this, and your PTA Council Board does, then we ask that each and every one of you call your alderman or town chairman and request that they vote for the immediate bonding and construction of the high school.

Wisconsin Report

Gronouski's Career Has Been Spectacular But Future Is Vague

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The effort in Washington to make the removal of Wisconsin-trained John Gronouski from the cabinet position of postmaster general and his appointment to the U.S. embassy in Poland appear to be a promotion has involved an explicit intervention by President Johnson in the White House. Recent dispatches have disclosed that the President went to the length of inviting Polish-American press representatives and leaders of the Polish-American communities of the principal cities of the country to a private conference to persuade them that Gronouski's change of career was not a demotion and not a slight to the idea of Polish-American involvement in the American government.

Wyngaard

The dispatches have also related that some of the President's guests were not impressed or convinced. From a Wisconsin perspective, he should not have been surprised. Scarcely anybody in Wisconsin Democratic politics interpreted the Gronouski transfer as anything but a reverse in his hitherto brilliant advancement in the politics of the country.

The best and most illuminating comment came on the day of the announcement of Gronouski's replacement in the post office department from a junior assistant to one of the major Wisconsin Democratic Party leaders.

AMBASSADOR WHO?

"The way to appraise the transfer," he advised, "is to try to remember the name of the retiring ambassador."

What John Gronouski thinks about the dramatic new direction of his life he has, with characteristic cheerfulness, carefully kept to himself. One of the retiring postmaster general's most distinctive characteristics, and doubtless one of the most useful traits of his personality, is a genial ability to accommodate himself to the changing fortunes of the professional politician.

Whatever the future may hold for the man who will represent his country behind the Iron Curtain of Eastern Europe, his experience has been a thoroughly remarkable one during the scant dozen years since as a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin he postponed his doctoral thesis to join the losing fight of the Democrats of Wisconsin to elect Thomas E. Fairchild to the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's U.S. Senate seat in 1952. That experience was a frustrating one at the time, but as so often happens in the swift pacing of events in politics, it brought him invaluable associations. Without that tour of duty in the impecunious and unkempt party headquarters, he would not have been sought out a few years later when Gov. Gaylord Nelson wanted a new state tax commissioner; and also wanted one who had the prestige of an economics graduate degree.

RISK TAKEN

Most young academicians would have been content with that prestigious rank and opportunity. But Gronouski almost as soon as he settled down in the job began showing that restless ambition and capacity for risk taking in the political arena that has brought many other young men rewards in the party which was then starting to prove that it had attained equal status with the Republicans for the rule of the state.

When Nelson wanted to follow a neutral course in the Kennedy-Humphrey primary in Wisconsin in 1960, Gronouski defied the idea and plumped for Kennedy. It was a lucky decision, for without it he undoubtedly would not have caught the attention of the White House, whatever political value his ethnic associations suggested.

It is not generally known, but Gronouski before he left for Washington believed that the governorship of Wisconsin was ultimately within his grasp. There are those who are wondering whether a retired Warsaw ambassador may one day stump the state as gubernatorial aspirant.

It's Libel to Argue That People Like War

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In any discussion of the possible ways to abolish war from the world, one is always likely to hear a strident voice raised in the ringing declamation: "You'll never do away with war — because men really like them."

There is not, and never has been, the slightest evidence for this statement. Anthropologists tell us that primitive man, in fact, far from being a fighter, was a peaceful farmer, fisherman and hunter — until his economic survival was threatened.

Nor is fighting an "animal instinct." The most ferocious animals do not kill each other, and hunt lesser species only for food. Darwin's "survival of the fittest" did not mean survival by combativeness but by adaptation to the changing conditions of the food supply. Otherwise, the dinosaurs would have conquered the world instead of perishing.

The history of the human race offers more than sufficient proof that men do not like war. If they did millions would not have to be drafted, and then carefully trained in sophisticated savagery. Armies spend many months and many millions in making legal murderers out of average men who would rather switch than fight.

Even in the American Revolution, when the colonists were trying to overthrow a tyrant and establish self-government, Washington's most difficult task was getting and keeping enough troops on hand to meet the Hessian mercenaries hired by the British.

Men had to be bribed and paid increasingly large bounties — and still not enough volunteers were to be had. Washington complained to Congress that many recruits took their bounties and then deserted.

In the War of 1812 and the war with Mexico, three months' pay in advance plus 100 acres of land were offered to each recruit — and the results were disappointing. Desertions were also rife in the Civil War; and, in 1863, when Lincoln called for another 100,000 militia, only 15,000 responded, and the Union was forced to draft 35,000 men — of whom at least 25,000 were "substitutes."

Men may sometimes enjoy fighting to obtain release for their animal spirits, but they are not natural killers. In a western society, their aggressive drive is safely channeled into sports and other forms of non-lethal activities.

Wars occur because of national pride and economic rivalry, and it is a libel on the human race to suggest that we have a built-in "instinct" for mass homicide. Men may go to war for patriotism, or under compulsion, but no one in his right mind goes to war because he loves the smell of blood.

Major Defeats Bring Talk of Adjournment

Administration Leaders in Congress React to Balkiness

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST WASHINGTON (AP) — Three recent legislative setbacks for President Johnson — one of them a major defeat — have started administration congressional leaders wondering if it isn't time to adjourn while they're still ahead of the game.

After nine months of docility during which key parts of the President's program were enacted with votes to spare, the legislators are showing signs of balkiness. They already want to go home to sound out sentiment at the grass roots level.

Many of them are chafing at repeated Republican taunts that Johnson's first Congress since his election last year has been famous for its willingness to rubber-stamp White House legislation.

Rubber Stamp

There are indications that Republicans, outnumbered more than 2 to 1 in the House and better than 3 to 1 in the Senate, plan to stress the "rubber stamp" charge in their bid to regain seats in the 1966 congressional elections.

Disclosing plans for a slowdown of the legislative machinery in the next few weeks, a high Democratic leader summed up what apparently is the thinking of many of his colleagues.

"The animals are getting restless," he said. "They want to go home and find out firsthand what their constituents are thinking. A few more setbacks like we've had in the past few days might persuade the President to suggest that we call it quits while we are way ahead in the win column."

Adjournment Date

Several major decisions to be made by Congress early this month may determine the adjournment date.

The House will vote soon on a Senate-passed highway beautification bill. This is on the President's "must" list and is a pet project of his wife.

The bill barely cleared the Rules Committee last week. The vote that sent it to the floor was 7 to 6, with two opponents absent.

"Right now we don't have the votes to pass it," a Democratic leader confided. "We may not have them later, but the President wants action."

Minimum Wage

Behind the highway bill on the House calendar is a Johnson-backed measure to broaden coverage of the minimum wage law. In the face of threatened defeat, its sponsors already have agreed to scale down a proposed wage boost in an effort to attract more support.

Another labor-backed bill is in deep trouble in the Senate. It is a House-passed measure to negate state laws that prohibit union shop clauses in labor contracts. Senate leaders may not be able to break a filibuster aimed at blocking a vote on the bill. The measure is being pushed hard by the administration.

Pressure Tactics

The defeat was more galling for the President because it took a lot of White House arm-twisting to persuade 216 House members to sign a petition that forced the vote. Many members privately voiced resentment at the pressure tactics.

The House followed that slap at the President with another jolt. Over White House opposition it sent to the Senate by a vote of 370 to 7 a bill to give federal employees a pay raise that would cost $15 billion over a two-year period. The President, favoring a more modest increase, described the bill as "disastrous."

Proposal Downed

Late last month another administration proposal went down the drain in the House. It called for approval of a $227-million hydroelectric project on the St. John River in Maine.

While the Senate may try to pick up some of the legislative pieces, the mood of the House is not good. Many members feel that they have done enough for one session and it's time to go home.

If they keep feeling that way, the session may end soon with some major legislation shunted aside as unfinished business for next year.

Looking Backward

Another Democratic Hat in Ring

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Oct. 7, 1865.

To-day we raise the name of A. L. Smith of Outagamie as the Democratic nominee for State Senator in this district. This nomination came to him unsought. Indeed, no candidate was urged or pressed upon the Convention, and, looking the field over, that body, with entire unanimity, made the choice of Mr. Smith because of his high personal worth and popularity.

In this County, where he is so well and favorably known, it is unnecessary to speak in his behalf; but as he may not be so well known in other parts of the district, we deem it proper to say that he is eminently worthy of the support and confidence of every Democrat and Conservative man, and if elected will faithfully and efficiently represent all the interests of the entire district.

Cordially endorsing as he does, the Democratic State Platform and our nominees for state offices, he is entitled to the hearty support of every man who believes Democratic measures essential to State and National prosperity.

Now let every Democrat be a vigilance committee to work for his election.

Give him the Democratic vote, and success is certain. "Guards! Up and at 'em!"

25 YEARS AGO

Production had begun on the junior class play at Appleton High School under Miss Kathryn Fralish, speech teacher. Chosen for the cast of "Foot-Loose," three-act comedy by Charles Quimby Burdette, were students Ann Mitchell, Jean Rindal, Shirley Foreman, Bette Stevens, Betty Greb, Patricia Thwing, Teddy Slater, Charles Benjamin, Ralph Buesing, Robert Connelly, Dan Moser, Earl Hall, Jack Courtney and Roger Kirkheide. Wilfred Kaufman and Robert Last were scoutmaster and assistant of the new Salvation Army Boy Scout Troop No. 54. Roy Jury, troop committee-man, was in charge of the investiture ceremony for tenderfoot Scouts.

Mrs. Frank Koch was elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Wolf River Post at Fremont. Other officers reflected were Mrs. John Lohman and Mrs. Lillian Welton, vice president, and Mrs. Henry Bauer, secretary-treasurer.

Officers of the newly formed Twin City Council of Churches included the Rev. John Hanchett, president, William Platt, vice president, Mrs. Hugo Erdmann, secretary, and Gordon Peterson, treasurer. Taking over their duties as new officers of the Kaukauna Catholic Order of Foresters were Edward Maul, chief ranger; John Block, vice chief ranger; Lawrence Gerend, financial secretary, and Daniel Maurer, recording secretary. Speaker for the Monday meeting was Harold Hopfensperger. Dennis Paul and Dave Miller were chosen emcees for the annual sophomore talent show at Appleton High School. Wilmer Wagner, commander of the Harvey Pierre Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Marvin Schroeder, community service officer, presented St. Elizabeth Hospital with toys and other recreational devices for children in the post ward.

Invitation to Gemini Shot Trapped Ivan

With one adept stroke, President Johnson has painted the Soviet regime into an embarrassing propaganda corner.

His invitation to the Soviet Academy of Sciences to send a delegation to watch the launching of Gemini 6 in October was one of those rare psychological warfare plays that leaves the victim helpless to move in any direction without damaging himself.

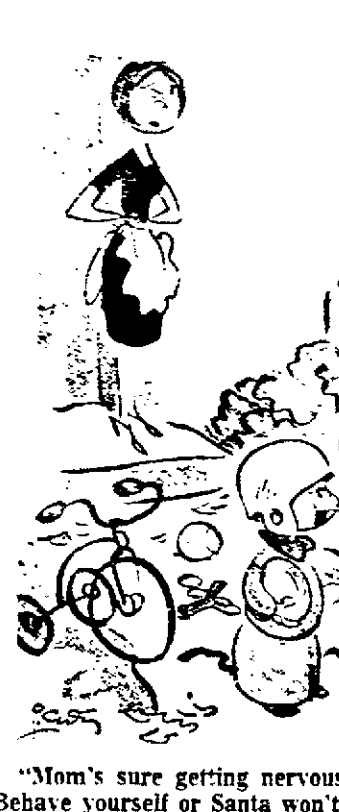

If the Russians accepted the invitation and sent a delegation, they immediately would have raised the question of a reciprocal invitation.

The Russians have long clamped rigid secrecy around their space operations. To lift the veil would have been very painful for them.

But, by deciding not to send a delegation, they will look timid and foolish.

Either way, the U.S. wins a round. Even if the Russians had decided to attend the Gemini launch, they wouldn't have learned anything about American technology their widespread espionage network hadn't already told them—Edmonton (Alberta) Journal.

Soldier Entitled To Same Legal Rights as Civilian

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A U.S. District Court judge has ruled that a soldier is entitled to the same legal protection at a court-martial as a civilian tried in any court. The ruling, on a soldier's application for a writ of habeas corpus, challenges traditional concepts of military justice and is called unique by Utah's U.S. attorney William T. Thurman. Judge A. Sherman Christensen of the Utah District, in an opinion filed Friday, said soldiers tried by special courts-martial are entitled by the Constitution's Sixth Amendment to a trained lawyer as counsel. Officers traditionally are appointed to act as defense or prosecution counsel in a court-martial, regardless of whether they are lawyers. The uniform code of military justice requires bona fide lawyers as defense and prosecution counsel in a general court-martial, but a lower court-martial does not carry this requirement.

cases could be the administrator, the WCBA advises. Assemblyman George Molinaro, the Democratic assembly leader and long-time employee of the American Motors Company Kenosha plant, will retire from his shop job soon to devote all of his time to public affairs. Friends believe that he may run for mayor in his home town next year. He is 62.

universal tendency in the popular discussions of the resort trade to "overblow" the volume of its business, the bulletin remarks. The observation recalls the story of a state government publicity man who many years ago was called upon to make a speech about the volume of income represented by the resort trade, and picked a handsome figure out of the air. For the rest of his life he felt vaguely guilty because his impulsive and amateur guess took hours, which is substantially above the rate for the larger he had spoken out as a state manufacturing industries official who probably should have known the facts. Capital city Republicans, with no illusions about the prospects yet another boost in the state of trying to unseat Democratic Rep. Robert Kastenmeier of the second congressional district, are scouting Republican candidates for the 1966 district. Among the possibilities is William B. Smith, Madison lawyer and president of the Madison city council. The county administrator bill in the legislature has failed, but the Wisconsin County Boards Association is advising county officials and especially those of the larger counties that the pressure for centralized direction of county affairs will grow and will ultimately bring a compulsory executive system. The association suggests that the larger counties consider using the optional county administrator law put on the books several years ago, but not yet used. The county clerk in many

CBS Special On Sculptor Henry Moore

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 — Channel 2 — Henry Moore: Man of Form, an excellent documentary on the world-famous English sculptor. It is of special interest for admirers of modern art. Charles Collingwood, aided by a host of distinguished artists, gives a comprehensive review of Moore's life and work. Focus is on Moore's most recent work — his two-piece reclining figure (16 feet high and 30 feet across) which was recently unveiled in the plaza of New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. Chats with Moore reveal how he was inspired and how he executed the huge, bronze figure.

7-30-8 — Channel 11 — October Madness: The World Series is a delightful must for baseball fans. After a brief scene-setting segment (which has a great spring training home run in the third game of a playoff with the Dodgers which put the Giants in the Series; Don Larsen's perfect game in 1956; Bill Mazeroski's last minute homer in 1960; Ernie Lombardi's "big sleep"; Mickey Owen's passed ball; great catches by Al Gionfriddo and Willie Mays. The players off-camera voices narrate many of these segments.

6-30-7-30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Combat again takes a taut incident of war and makes the most of it. This time Sgt. Saunders' squad is on a mission to protect some linesmen of the Signal Corps as they stretch important communication wires across the French countryside. It's a routine job that tragically goes haywire. German snipers keep popping up in every barn and bush. Worst of all, Jack Lord guest stars as a particularly bitter young linesman, who trusts AT&T more than he does his fellow man, and keeps Saunders constantly unstrung.

6-30-7-30 — Channels 2-12 — Rawhide also zeroes in on a taut situation. Drivers Simon and Quince are trapped in an old coal mine with seeping gas and a growling bear. The trick is to get them out before they are poisoned or eaten alive.

7-30 — Channels 4-5 — Please Don't Eat the Daisies is as fussy as beef braise pompadour and as simple as a New England clam bake. The joke here, and an overworked one before it is over, is how Joan can entertain hubby Jim's college comrades. Most of the lines are fed to Ladadog, the couples huge pet, who runs away with the show. (COLOR)

7-30-8 — Channels 4-5 — Dr. Kildare is still concerned with his young medical charges — Tony Bill, Dean Stockwell and Sheridan Wells. In part three of this drawn out six-parter, the young doctor is also busy trying to appease Bill's wife (Judy Lang) who thinks her husband keeps his nose too much in a pill box. (COLOR)

8-10 — Channels 4-5 — Tuesday Night at the Movies "The Wheeler Dealers" is one of those broad comedies about a Texas toon who puts his spurs into Wall Street as if it were a wild mustang. James Garner is the well-oiled charmer, and Lee Remick is the lady stock broker who wants to break him of his wild spending. A 1963 MGM release. (COLOR)

8-30-9 — Channels 2-7-12 — If you haven't been to a spelling bee in some time you might enjoy Petticoat Junction which is wordier than usual. Bobbie Jo is convinced she can win a local contest if she has her "good luck" ring on. (COLOR)

8-30-9 — Channels 11-6-9 — Peyton Place is busy with "otherness" again. Rodney and Allison, behaving as if they were Romeo and Juliet, have a tearful meeting in the jail. Leslie, back to his old tricks as Shylock, tries to butter up Elliot for a special editorial. Doris, who thinks she is Ophelia is teaching Kim to speak. And Connie, as cautious as Portia, has a surprise visit to Dr. Morton.

9-10 — Channels 11-6-9 — The Fugitive has its most interesting episode of the new season. After so long a time, it seems as if Kimble is on the eve of trapping the one-armed man who supposedly killed his wife. Charles Aidman guest stars as a man who says he saw the killing. Even crusty old Lieutenant Gerard (Barry Morse) believes his story, and there are some thoughtful, suspenseful moments when Kimble must decide to give himself up and hit the courts, again. But the conclusion may fool you.

300 Kindergarten Students Visit Police Station

LITTLE CHUTE — Approximately 30 kindergarten students, representing six classes at the state graded school, toured the police station last week and heard a talk by Robert Nechodom, chief of police.

Police each year conduct programs for the youngsters as many of them are afraid of policemen. Officers try to explain their purpose and how they are friends who should be called on when a youngster has a problem or trouble. The children were shown how various equipment in the police car is utilized, tools used by police in line of duty and told of safe practices in walking to school. Each youngster was given a pamphlet explaining dangers in becoming friendly with strangers and advised to take the pamphlet home for their parents to explain.
